DRAFT

1. BACKGROUND & INTRODUCTION

The San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency (SJAFCA) is a Joint Powers Authority that was created in May 1995 between the City of Stockton, San Joaquin County and the San Joaquin County Flood Control and Water Conservation District for the purpose of provide flood protection services for the City of Stockton and surrounding unincorporated county areas. This Engineer's Report has been prepared on behalf of SJAFCA for the purpose of creating a new local funding mechanism in order to continue to maintain flood protection services in the Smith Canal Area of Stockton. It describes the funding objectives, apportionment methodology, formation process and collection timeline of a new special benefit assessment district proposed to fund flood control improvements and associated operations and maintenance in the Smith Canal area of Stockton.

Background

The Smith Canal is a man-made backwater slough of the San Joaquin River adjacent to the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta (Delta) and is located in San Joaquin County, just north of the Deep Water Ship Channel. The Smith Canal is leveed to prevent back-flooding from the Delta. The Smith Canal levees are heavily encroached upon and cannot be certified as meeting Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) standards or the State of California's new Interim Levee Design Criteria. When it became evident in 2009 that the Smith Canal levees would lose their FEMA accreditation, SJAFCA partnered with the Smith Canal levee owners, Reclamation District 1614 (RD 1614) (north bank levee) and Reclamation District 828 (RD 828) (south bank levee), and took the lead in evaluating options for restoring flood protection to the Smith Canal area.

In April 2009, SJAFCA, with partners RD's 1614 and 828, embarked on an effort to process a Conditional Letter of Map Revision (CLOMR) with FEMA. The purpose was to determine an appropriate solution to protect areas affected by Smith Canal levee decertification. As part of that effort, SJAFCA developed several conceptual approaches to providing at least a one-hundred year level of flood protection to area affected by the levee decertification and FEMA re-mapping. On January 13, 2011, FEMA concluded that a feasible solution proposed by SJAFCA and its partners, a closure structure at the mouth of Smith Canal, that if constructed, would provide at least one-hundred year flood protection and warrant a revision in the Flood Insurance Rate Map.

At the same time, the State of California Department of Water Resources (DWR) was currently soliciting applications for projects warranting funding through its Early Implementation Program (EIP). In January 2011, DWR promulgated a Proposal Solicitation Package outlining the requirements for projects seeking funding through the EIP and on February 15, 2011, SJAFCA submitted application materials seeking cost sharing from DWR for the design of the a project and was awarded a design grant in September 2012.

Also in January 2011, SJAFCA and the RD's partnered again on an effort to obtain the needed local funding for a project to maintain flood control services to the area affected by levee decertification. In order to obtain the State matching funds for the design and ultimate implementation of the project, SJAFCA and its partners were required to demonstrate how they would fund the local share of the costs of a project. SJAFCA, RD 1614, and RD 828 proposed forming a new benefit assessment district that would levy assessments from property directly benefiting from Smith Canal flood protection.

A number of alternatives for restoring flood protection to the area have been evaluated. In-place rehabilitation of the levees was determined to be economically infeasible. A feasible alternative was determined to be constructing a closure structure at the mouth of Smith Canal. Conceptual designs for a closure structure include a fixed sheet pile wall structure with an opening gate structure to allow for navigation and tidal movement of water into and out of Smith Canal. Various alternatives for the exact location of the structure have been evaluated and through the design and environmental permitting process, it expected that final solution will be vetted.

Conceptual designs show a fixed segment of the structure consisting of a dual sheet pile wall filled with granular material. The opening portion of the closure structure would be an "Obermeyer" type gate structure, consisting of a stainless steel gate which will be raised and lowered by inflating and deflating a rubber bladder. The closure structure is to be operated at the mouth of Smith Canal during tide events forecasted to approach or exceed the design operating water surface elevation. The closure structure would remain open (in a down position) at all other times to allow for navigation and tidal movement of water in and out of Smith Canal.

For purposes of determining the funding requirements of this proposed assessment district, SJAFCA has studied the costs associated with the feasible alternative conceptually approved by FEMA and submitted to DWR for cost sharing. These costs will be used as a proxy for determining the local funding needed to allow SJAFCA to continue to maintain flood protection services in the area of Smith Canal. The use of these costs as a proxy within this Engineer's report does not bind SJAFCA to construct this project, it merely provides SJAFCA with sufficient funding to implement a feasible project, subject to obtaining matching funds from DWR, that will achieve SJAFCA's ultimate goal of maintaining flood protection services.

Proposed Assessment District Boundary

The Smith Canal levees lost their FEMA accreditation in 2009 due to extensive encroachments onto the levees, primarily from residential structures. The loss of FEMA accreditation initially placed approximate 5,000 properties in the FEMA 100-Year floodplain. New Light Detection and Ranging (LiDAR) topographical data recently developed by DWR indicates that the original FEMA floodplain was incorrectly delineated and should in fact extend further eastward. Using this new data, FEMA has begun a floodplain remapping effort and an additional 2,800 homes are expected to be placed in the FEMA 100-Year floodplain within the next 12-24 months.

To determine the area of benefit for this assessment district, water surface elevations within Smith Canal were analyzed. Water surface elevations within Smith Canal are determined by Delta water surface elevations which are elevated when high tides combine with high flows on the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers. These conditions typically occur between November 1st and April 30th. The FEMA Flood Insurance Rate Maps for the Stockton area reflect 100-Year base flood elevations (BFEs) developed in 1978 by the United States Army Corps of Engineers (USACE). The BFEs were developed from stage frequency analyses from tidal gage data collected in the Delta. The USACE updated these analyses in 1982 and 1992, but FEMA mapping remained tied to the 1978 study. Therefore in 2010 SJAFCA, using a grant from FEMA, commissioned a study to update the 1992 stage-frequency analysis at two gage stations near Stockton: San Joaquin River at Rindge Pump (Rindge Pump) Gage, and Stockton Ship Channel at Burns Cutoff (Burns Cutoff) Gage. The Burns Cutoff Gage is located on the San Joaquin River near the mouth of Smith Canal, and therefore provides excellent information on water surface elevations within Smith Canal. This stage-frequency analysis update determined that based upon Burns Cutoff Gage data, the 100-Year water surface elevation for Smith Canal is 9.4 feet NAVD-88.¹ The analysis also showed a de-minimus difference in the 200-Year water surface elevation at 9.5 feet NAVD-88. As result of this analysis, SJAFCA plans to construct and operate improvements to meet a minimum level of protection for the 100-Year event while having the added benefit of having a facility that is able to be a component of 200-Year protection. This added benefit of being able to demonstrate that the facility would be a component of 200-Year protection allows SJAFCA to meet funding criteria for DWR cost sharing.

The Assessment District Boundary will encompass all property that receives benefit from the avoided floodplain of a 100-Year flood event, i.e. that area generally bound by the 9.4 feet NAVD-88 elevation. This Boundary is depicted in Figure 2 below.

More specifically, property that receives a direct benefit from reduced flooding as a result of the service provided as well as property that would otherwise be surrounded by water as a result of inundation from a 200-Year flood event is determined to benefit. All of these lands make up the benefiting property and are included within the proposed Assessment District Boundary and are shown in the Assessment District Boundary Map included as Appendix A.

Conceptual Improvements

As noted previously, the improvements that will be funded by the assessment district will be those improvements that will maintain flood protection services provided by SJAFCA to the Smith Canal Area. A feasible set of improvements has been evaluated by SJAFCA for purposes of processing a CLOMR with FEMA, applying for grant funding from DWR and provisioning for local funding through this proposed assessment district. The feasible improvements include constructing a closure structure at the mouth of Smith Canal.

A closure structure at the mouth of Smith Canal would consist of a fixed sheet pile wall structure with a two opening gate structure allowing for navigation into and out of the canal. The concept is for the Smith Canal Closure structure to be closed during tide events forecasted to approach or exceed the design operating water surface elevation. The Smith Canal closure structure would be operated as needed during these times to prevent water in the Delta from entering into Smith Canal. The gates would be raised at the lowest tide prior to the forecasted high tide, and remain closed until the high tide begins to recede. The gates would then be opened to allow any interior drainage that accumulated in Smith Canal during the closure period, to flow out.

SJAFCA has had extensive discussions with FEMA on the use of a closure structure to provide flood protection for the Smith Canal area. SJAFCA has prepared conceptual engineering design plans and geotechnical evaluation of the closure structure and submitted a request to FEMA for a CLOMR. FEMA has completed their review of SJAFCA's CLOMR request and concurred that the closure structure meets FEMA standards.

The fixed segment of the closure structure would consist of a dual sheet pile wall filled with granular material. The opening portion of the closure structure would be "Obermeyer" type gate structures, consisting of stainless steel gate panels which would be raised and lowered by inflating and deflating rubber air bladders. The gate panels and air bladders would be attached to concrete foundations using stainless steel anchor bolts. The gates would operate between stainless steel abutment plates attached to the sheet pile wall structure. At each abutment, a rubber wiper-type seal would be affixed to the gate panel edge. This seal would ride up and down the stainless steel abutment plate as the gate is closed, keeping abutment plate seepage to a minimum. The gate system would be designed so it can be operated manually, using programmable preset operating controls, or remotely via a Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition (SCADA) system.

The gate panels would be made from stainless steel. The gates would be curved to allow space for the deflated air bladder when the gate panel is fully lowered. This would prevent the air bladders from being damaged by boat anchors, etc. when the gate is in the down position and open to navigation.

The air bladders would be designed and manufactured by methods similar to those used in the manufacture of automotive tires. A Butyl rubber inner liner would provide the needed air retention characteristics. A section of high tensile strength rubber compounds containing multiple layers of polyester or Aramid, e.g. DuPont Kevlar® tire, cord reinforcement would provide the mechanical strength needed to contain the internal pressure. A cover compound utilizing aging and ozone resistant polymers is used to protect the bladder from wear and weathering.

The air bladders would be inflated using air compressors housed in an equipment room which would be built directly adjacent to the closure structure. The equipment room would also house the back-up power generator, operating system and the various control valves.

Purpose of Engineer's Report

The central purpose of this Engineer's Report is to describe, in detail, the methodology for levying an assessment upon parcels that would receive special benefits from the Smith Canal improvements and their associated operation and maintenance. This proposed assessment district would be known as the "Smith Canal Area Assessment District" (SCAAD or District).

This Engineer's Report outlines the funding plan for the Smith Canal Area improvements and associated operations and maintenance. Chapter 2 of this report outlines the authorized facilities and services and their costs; Chapter 3 of this report outlines the financing plan and underlying assumptions of how the annual assessment will be used to fund the improvement costs. Chapter 4 describes the methodology for levying an assessment that is proportional to the special benefits received by each parcel within the proposed assessment district; Chapter 6 describes how the assessment would be administered on an annual basis and how it is planned to be phased in by SJAFCA; and Chapter 5 provides the special benefit findings and certification by the assessment engineer.

Appendix A identifies the parcels proposed for inclusion in the assessment district within the Assessment District Parcels Map.

Appendix B provides an analysis prepared by Peterson Brustad, Inc. (PBI) on behalf of SJAFCA outlining Operations and Maintenance requirements of a Smith Canal Closure Structure.

Appendix C provides a copy of the appraisal analysis completed by Seevers Jordan Ziegenmeyer to determine the relative land values of property located in the proposed assessment district.

Appendix D provides the schedule of assessments by parcel (the initial maximum annual assessment roll for assessment balloting purposes).

Authority and Process

The proposed assessment district is being formed by SJAFCA pursuant to the Benefit Assessment Act of 1982, Government Code §54703-54719 (1982 Act). Government Code §54710 (a) (2) authorizes any local agency authorized to provide flood control services, which includes SJAFCA, to impose a benefit assessment pursuant to the 1982 Act. Assessments authorized under the 1982 Act are levied annually based on a budget for expenditures. Under Government Code §53739 landowners may authorize SJAFCA to levy an assessment within a designated range on an annual basis. All special benefit assessments must also comply with Article XIID of the State Constitution, commonly referred to as Proposition 218, and the Proposition 218 Omnibus Implementation Act (Government Code §53750 et seq.). These requirements outline the process for imposing the benefit assessment, including the requirements of this Engineer's Report to document the special benefit conferred by the facility and service provided, the process for the district formation, and property owner approval through an assessment balloting process.

This Engineer's Report has been prepared to (1) contain the information required pursuant to Government Code §54716, including (a) a description of the facility and services proposed to be funded through the revenue derived from the assessment, (b) a description of each lot or parcel of property to be subject to the assessment, (c) the amount of the proposed assessment for each lot or parcel, (d) the basis of the assessment, and (e) the schedule of the assessment; (2) establish a budget to fund the facility and services; (3) determine the special benefits received from the facility and services by property within the Assessment District; and (4) assign a method of assessment apportionment to lots and parcels in the proposed assessment district.

Following submittal of this report to the SJAFCA Board of Directors (Board) for preliminary approval, the Board may, by resolution, call for an assessment ballot proceeding and public hearing on the proposed establishment of the proposed assessment district.

If the Board approves such a resolution, the secretary of the Board will initiate the notice, protest, and hearing procedure required by Government Code §53753 and Article XIID. A notice of assessment and assessment ballot will be mailed to property owners within the proposed assessment district boundaries. Such notice would include a description of the facilities and services to be funded by the proposed assessments, the proposed assessment amount for each parcel owned, a proposed range of assessment, the duration of the assessment, an explanation of the method of voting on the assessments, and the name and telephone number of the person designated by the Board to answer inquiries regarding the protest hearing. Each notice would specify the date, time, and place of the public hearing and a summary of the ballot return procedures. Each notice would also include a ballot on which the property owner can mark his or her approval or disapproval of the proposed assessments, as well as affix his or her signature, and a postage prepaid envelope in which to return the ballot.

Landowners will have at least 45 days to return the assessment ballots. On the last day of the balloting period, a public hearing will be held for the purpose of allowing public testimony regarding the proposed assessments. At the public hearing, the public would have the opportunity to address the Board about the proposed assessment and submit or revise previously submitted ballots.

If the votes in favor of the assessment are in the majority (weighted by the proportional financial obligation of the property for which the ballots are submitted), the Board may take action to approve formation of the proposed assessment district and future levying of assessments. If the assessments are so confirmed and approved, the levies would be submitted in future years to the respective County Auditor Controller for inclusion on the property tax rolls, or SJAFCA may directly bill the property owner for the assessment. As outlined in Government Code §53739, the Board may levy the assessment in future years without conducting a new vote procedure so long as the assessments are within the authorized inflation-adjusted range as described within this engineer's report and authorized in the original balloting procedure.

2. PROPOSED FUNDED FACILITIES AND SERVICES AND COST ESTIMATES

The District is to provide the local share of the funding required to achieve the following purposes:

- Construct improvements that will provide the needed level of flood protection to the area subject to inundation by a levee failure along Smith Canal.
- Operate and maintain said facilities in such a fashion so that they will continue provide the needed level of flood protection in perpetuity.

The annual assessment that will be levied by the District will consist of two components including an assessment for the capital improvements as well as an assessment for the administration of the district and ongoing operations and maintenance of the improvements.

Facilities

As previously described, the SJAFCA's goal is to provide a minimum of 100-Year flood protection to the lands subject to inundation by failure of a levee along the north and south levees of the Smith Canal. The construction of a closure structure at the mouth of Smith Canal has been determined to be a feasible solution to achieve this flood protection goal. SJAFCA has received EIP funding from DWR for a portion of the project's design costs and will pursue funding for the remainder of the projects costs should the Assessment be approved by property owners. SJAFCA, for purposes of developing a financing plan for this Project, has assumed EIP funding will ultimately provide approximately 55% of the total costs of a project. State cost sharing of the total Project, if approved, will not be known until 2013 or 2014 when SJAFCA would apply for construction funding of the project. Table 1 below outlines the estimated escalated project costs and the assumed State cost share split of the project for the purpose of a financing plan for District formation. The local cost share of the project to be funded by the District is assumed to be $18,438,000.

[1] Design costs are not escalated. Construction costs (Years 4-5) in Table 1 are escalated to $2016 at 2.9% per Year, based on ENR 20-City annual index August 2012

[2] State Cost sharing is assumed to be 50% plus 5% for one State Facility.

[3] Assumes 100% of the financing cost ($100,000) would not eligible for State Cost Sharing. Financing Cost are not escalated.

Services to be Funded by the Assessment

The type of improvements funded by the District will require ongoing physical monitoring and operations. The improvements would consist of mechanical equipment such as compressors, generators and appurtenant equipment that will require ongoing maintenance and up-keep in order to ensure that the improvements provide the designed level of flood protection into the future. The costs associated with all operations and maintenance of a closure structure would be funded by the operations and maintenance component of the annual assessment levy. These ongoing services are described in detail in Appendix B, "SJAFA Smith Canal Closure Structure, Operations & Maintenance Requirements Technical Memorandum, April 28, 2011" prepared by PBI. In general, the Operations & Maintenance (O&M) Requirements would include:

- Gate Operation
- Equipment Testing

- Routine Maintenance & Inspection
- Emergency Maintenance
- Equipment Replacement/Capital Reserve

Based upon the assumptions outlined by PBI in Appendix B, the annual costs for ongoing O&M could range between $282,000 and $379,000 per year. The budgeted estimate developed by PBI indicated that a suitable estimate in 2011$'s is $324,800. Therefore the initial maximum annual assessment for the O&M component is calculated based upon an O&M budget of $341,000¹ in Fiscal Year 13/14. A summary of the Operations & Maintenance Budget is shown in Table 2 below.

[1] Note: Costs are in 2011$'s. For purposes of setting the maximum annual rate at the time of the formation of the district, the costs in Table 4 have been escalated. Ongoing annual escalation commences in FY 2014/15 when the collection of the assessments commences.

In addition to the above services related to the Operations & Maintenance of a new facility, the ongoing administrative expenses of the District will also be funded through the annual levy of assessments. Ongoing administrative expenses include the annual calculation and preparation of the assessment engineer's report and roll, the actual costs of collecting the annual assessments and the costs of responding to inquiries including the review and processing of any appeals. For purposes of setting assessment rates, SJAFCA estimates that the annual cost of administering the district to be approximately $20,000 per year.

3. FINANCING PLAN

In order to determine the annual funding requirements necessary to fund SJAFCA's share of the capital cost of a new facility, a financing plan including a cash flow analysis has been developed. Seth Wurzel Consulting, Inc. (SWC) determined the annual capital funding need for the assessment district by preparing a cash flow model and analyzing the local share funding need of the project assuming a five year project schedule. The analysis assumes the design of the project takes place over three years and the construction of a project occurs the following two years.

State Cost Sharing

As stated previously, the analysis assumes that the cost share between the SJAFCA and the State is limited to 55% State / 45% SJAFCA. Based upon EIP requirements, the State Cost share will start at 50% during the design phase and then jump to 55% during construction with credit provided for the additional 5% cost share on the design after construction commences. Any shortfall in cash needed to cover expenses after State funding is assumed to be funded by SJAFCA and ultimately be part of the financing plan and covered by this proposed Assessment District.

Assessment Timing

The rate calculations set forth in this Engineer's report are all based upon costs in FY 2013/14. However, the first year of collection of the assessment would be in FY 2014/15. Assessment revenue collected while the project is being designed and constructed would be used to directly fund design and construction expenses on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The duration of the capital component of the assessment is assumed to be 30 years from a permanent takeout financing which is expected to take place in the later part of 2016.

Bond Plan

Based upon guidance from SJAFCA staff, the cash flow model assumes that SJAFCA would be able to self-finance any cash flow short falls through inter-fund borrowing or similar arrangements while the project is designed in its first three years (2013-2016). It is assumed that inter-fund borrowing costs would equal the opportunity cost incurred by SJAFCA's should the cash have otherwise remained in SJAFCA's pooled treasury. In 2016, SJAFCA would execute a short term cash flow borrowing (a two year note) at the start of construction to fund the local share of construction costs. This short term borrowing would be repaid after two years from a combination of current assessment revenue collections, State share reimbursement of costs due at the end of construction¹ and the proceeds from a long term permanent financing (i.e. redemption bonds). At the end of construction, the later part of 2018, SJAFCA would execute a long term borrowing that would be paid off over 30 years from annual assessment collections. Through the long term borrowing, SJAFCA would also repay, with interest, any internal borrowing used to up front fund design expenditures incurred between 2013 and 2016.

Cash Flow Analysis

A cash flow analysis has been developed in six-month periods for years 2013 through 2018. Costs for design and construction were allocated over time based upon input from SJAFCA staff and consultants. As noted previously, design and permitting is expected to take place over three years and the construction is expected to take place over the following two. The cash flow assumes an initial annual assessment of approximately $1.6 million and a financing structure consisting of;

¹ As part of the EIP funding process, the State withholds 10% of the State Share of costs until a project is complete. The release of this retention is assumed to be part of the revenues that will repay the short term cash flow borrowing.

- A Bond Anticipation Note issued September 2016 with a 2-year maturity that provides $13,900,00 in proceeds. Current interest would be due on this short-term financing semi-annually with the full principal due in 2018.
- $16,295,000 par amount of 30-Year maturity bonds issued in early 2018 with a 30-Year maturity that provides $14,900,000 in proceeds.

This plan is detailed in the cash flow shown in Table 3 on the following page.

In summary, the assessment engineer used the cash flow analysis to derive a conservative bond financing program consisting of one short term borrowing to fund the construction costs followed by a permanent take-out financing. Given this financing structure the assessment engineer estimates that the initial annual assessment need in 2013$'s would be $1,663,400 with collection commencing in FY 2014/15. Starting collection of this level of assessment in FY 2014/15 provides revenue to cover annual interest payments made on the short term borrowings, provides 10% debt service coverage for the permanent take-out financing and provides revenue for pay-as-you-go expenditures during design and construction. This plan ultimately keeps the assessment level down by collecting revenue during design and construction and lowers the total amount needed to be financed.

Table 4 summarizes the above financing structure and presents the associated annual need of the assessment district. The total annual assessment district budget is summarized considering the annual need for capital, operations and maintenance and district administration. The total annual budget for the assessment district expressed in 2013$'s is $1,663,400.

4. ASSESSMENT METHODOLOGY

General Discussion

Requirements of Proposition 218

To levy an assessment for a property related service such as flood control, Proposition 218 requires the local agency to:

- Identify all parcels that will have special benefits conferred on them by the facility and/or service
- Calculate the proportionate special benefit for each parcel in relation to the entirety of the Capital and O&M expenses being funded
- Ensure the assessment does not exceed the reasonable cost of the proportionate special benefit conferred on each parcel
- Separate the general benefits from the special benefits conferred on a parcel¹

Special Benefits vs. General Benefits

California Constitution Article XIII D §2 states a special benefit is a particular and distinct benefit over and above the general benefits conferred to the public at large. The properties in the proposed assessment district will receive a special benefit from the flood protection in the form of a substantial reduction in expected flood damages to structures, the contents of structures, and land.

Flood control facilities and their associated operations, such as the services to be provide only special benefits. Because flood control infrastructure protects particular identifiable parcels (including residents of the parcel and any appurtenant facilities or improvements) from damage because of inundation or force by floodwaters, the benefits are provided directly to those parcels, and to none other. By contrast, general benefits provided to the public at large are characterized by general enhanced property values; provision of general public services, such as police and fire protection; and recreational opportunities that are available to people regardless of their location.²

The issue surrounding general benefits merits further discussion because flood control improvements, and the associated operations and maintenance, have an obvious indirect relation to the very provision of general benefits. The facilities and services may, on initial inspection, appear to be general benefits. For example, the facilities and services will protect parks and schools that are used by people regardless of whether they live in the benefit area or not. But this indirect relation does not mean that the flood protection facilities and services themselves will provide any general benefits. Rather, the flood protection facilities and services will provide direct special benefits to the public parcels (such as parks and schools) that may themselves be used in the provision of general benefits.

More to the point, the public at large will be paying for the special benefits provided to specifically benefiting public property (e.g. a school), and specially benefitted property owners' assessments will not be used to subsidize general benefits provided to the public at large or to property outside the proposed assessment district. All property that is specially benefitted by the facilities and services will be assessed, including parks, schools, city facilities, and other parcels used in the provision of general benefits. Thus, the general public may pay for a portion of the provision of flood control improvements and services because the assessed public agencies may use general taxes and other public revenue to pay their assessments.

Special Benefit Calculation

As discussed above, the special benefit conferred to the property in the proposed assessment district is the combined benefit of flood damage avoidance and/or reduction to (1) structures and their contents, and (2) land. The benefit calculation derived by the engineer considers these two factors independently. The benefit calculation can be summarized as follows:

$$\begin{aligned}\text{Benefits} &= \text{Damages Avoided} \\ \text{Damages Avoided} &= \text{Structure and Content Damage} + \text{Land Damage}\end{aligned}$$

Each of these components is discussed in detail in the following sections.

Structure and Content Damage

The damage avoided to structures and their contents is derived by determining the amount of flood depth reduction experienced by each particular parcel in the benefit area as a result of the Smith Canal Area improvements and associated O&M.

Determining the avoided damages to structures and their contents requires considering the following factors:

- Relative Structure and Content Value
- Flood Depth Reduction
- Percentage of Flood Damage Reduction
- Structure Size

Relative Structure and Content Value

The USACE has identified the potential flood damages to structures by the following general land use categories:¹

- Residential—Physical damages to dwelling units (single-family, multifamily, and mobile homes) and to residential contents, including household items and personal property.
- Commercial—Structure value and content value damages (to commercial and public buildings), including equipment and furniture, supplies, merchandise, and other items used in the conduct of business.
- Industrial—Losses from inundation of industrial properties, including warehouses, consisting of fixtures and equipment, inventory, and structure.

Relative structure values for residential, commercial, public and industrial structures shown in Table 5 were determined using comparable assumptions from other engineers' reports² and data developed in connection an economic feasibility

¹ The USACE categories have been used by the following engineer's reports in support of assessments for flood control projects: "Final Engineer's Report, Sacramento Area Flood Control Agency Consolidated Capital Assessment District," Prepared by PB, April 19, 2007; "Final Engineer's Report, West Sacramento Area Flood Control Agency Assessment District," Prepared by PB, July 16, 2007; "Final Engineer's Report, Sutter Butte Flood Control Agency," Prepared by PB, July 14, 2010; and "Final Engineer's Report, Bear River Levee Operations and Maintenance Assessment for Reclamation District 2103," Prepared by EPS and Wood Rodgers, July 22, 2010.

They do not represent assessed value or current market value for an individual structure. Relative structure values are used in the assessment methodology to reflect value relations between land use categories and structure types.

Additionally, the Content Value was adjusted to reflect the lower value of contents with the units.

Flood Depth Reduction

A Smith Canal project would be designed to provide minimum 100-year protection. Accordingly, the flood depth reduction attributed to the benefiting parcels was determined using a 100-year flood event in Smith Canal given the 100-Year water surface elevation at the Burns Cutoff Gage station. The 100-year water surface elevation is assumed to be 9.4 Feet NAVD-88.

The relative flood depths of a parcel for the 100-Year event were established by establishing 2 foot flood depth ranges for the area benefiting. Using the GIS information to determine a parcels elevation, parcels were able to be slotted into the 2-foot flood depth ranges shown in Figure 3 below.

The flood depth reduction for each parcel within the 9.4 Feet NAVD-88 water surface elevation boundary is assumed to be the difference between 9.4 Feet NAVD-88 and the finished floor elevation of the structure on the parcel. The structure's finished floor elevation is based upon the GIS analysis performed by the assessment engineer to determine the relative elevation of a parcel and an assumed elevation of building's finished floor based upon the structure type given the parcel's use. Figure 4 below shows a graphic representation of the flood depth reduction relative to the 9.4 Feet NAVD-88 water surface elevation.

Percentage of Damage Reduction

The relation between depth of flooding and damages to structure and contents is shown in Table 6. A functional relation is available for each developed land use type (a land use with a structure) using depth-damage curves generated by the USACE and used by David Ford Consulting Engineer's as part of their Smith Canal Closure Structure inundation reduction benefit analysis.¹ Separate curves for structure and content damage have been developed. The structure and content damage curves were combined based on the structure-to-content-value ratios presented in Table 5 above to derive a depth damage curve that presents combined structure/content damage as a percentage of each building type's relative value.

Depth damage curves for one-story and two-story structures were available, however structure story information for non-single family residential structures was not available from the San Joaquin County Assessor and determined to be unreliable. Therefore, the damage curves for all other structure categories other than Single Family were averaged into single structure type categories representing the damage for all structure irrespective of the number of stories.²

For residential structures, the structure and content curves represent the damage as a percentage of structure value; therefore the curves were combined with no adjustment (thus no Content to Structure Value Ratio is shown on Table 5 for residential structures). For non-residential structures, the curves represent damage a percentage of structure value (for the

[1] For the various damage curves, the damage percentages have been averaged to represent a single damage percentage for a given flood depth range. Damage curves for non-residential structure types for single and multiple stories have been averaged due to lack of data regarding structure story heights from the assessor.

Flood depths from finished floor heights were determined based on assumed foundation heights for specific structure types. Those assumptions are also presented in Table 6 above. These assumptions were also based upon assumptions used within the David Ford Smith Canal Closure Structure inundation reduction benefit analysis.

To determine the reduction in structure damage, pre-project flood depths represent the flood-depth reduction assigned to a parcel as a result of the improvement project because the flood plain resulting from a Smith Canal levee failure is completely removed. This flood-depth reduction equates to reduction in flood damages for a structure and its contents based on the above functional relationship between flood depth and structure and content damage. As previously stated, the flood-damage reduction is equivalent to the benefit received as a result of the facilities and associated O&M services.

For example, in the case of a single story single-family residential home on a parcel that experiences a flood-depth reduction of 5 feet from its finished floor, the damage reduction can be determined by looking at the depth-damage curve for single-family structures in the range that includes 5 feet. The damage percentage at 4 to 6 foot range is 81.7 percent.

Structure Size

Flood damages to structures and their contents were calculated for each parcel in the benefit area using the actual square footage for residential structures, the first story of commercial and industrial structures, and the applicable structure value. Structure size was determined for each parcel in the benefit area based on data obtained from the respective County Assessor's parcel database. For properties where it was known that a structure existed, based on either improvement value data obtained from the Assessor's database or aerial photographs, yet the Assessor's database did not have specific structure detail information, an assumed structure size was used based upon inspection of recent aerial imagery by the engineer. This assumption was applied to determine a structure size for purposes of the structure damage calculation.

Structure and Content Damage Example

As stated above, the structure and content damage is calculated for each individual parcel in the proposed assessment district based on the specific attributes for the parcel, i.e., structure type, size, and flood-depth reduction. For example the structure and content damage for the following parcel would be calculated as follows:

General Formula

Structure and Content Damage = Building SF x Relative Value x Depth %

Example:

Single Story Single-Family Residence

Building Square Feet: 1,500

Flood Depth 5 Feet

Structure and Content Damage = 1,500 SF x $60 / SF x 81.7% = $ 73,553

$73,530 would represent the relative structure and content damage benefit experienced by the example parcel presented. This benefit plus the land damage benefit are used to determine the total relative benefit of the parcel to all other parcels in the benefit area.

Land Damage

Several factors contribute to the flood damage reduction benefit to land, both vacant and improved. These include avoidance of physical damage to the land during a flood, reduced cost of improvements, the ability to secure financing for building projects, reduced cost of flood insurance, changes in highest and best land use for the parcel, preservation of land values, and the ability to maintain access to property.

The factors that impact the land damage calculation include these:

- Relative Land Damage Factor
- Parcel Size

Relative Land Damage Factor

The assessment engineer determined that the benefit to land in the assessment district is proportional to the relative land value. To account for the benefit received by the land and to weight this benefit appropriately relative to the structure and content damage benefit, the assessment engineer has determined that each property in the benefit area would be subject to a land damage factor of 10 percent of the relative land value.

The land damage per acre was determined by applying the 10-percent land damage factor to the relative value of the property, as determined by an analysis performed by a certified real estate appraiser. The appraisal analysis was performed to determine the relative values of the property in the benefit area based on the land use types as determined by the San Joaquin County Assessor. This appraisal analysis was prepared by Seevers Jordan Ziegenmeyer for SJAFCA for this proposed assessment district and is attached to this Engineer's Report as Appendix C.

The attached appraisal report prepared for this proposed assessment district identifies the relative per-acre baseline land values for the property in the benefit area exclusive of any building improvements. Land values were determined for each Assessor's land use code found for the property in the proposed assessment district. The values derived are not assessed values or actual market values for any individual parcel of land; rather, they represent the value relationship between various land use classifications for the property in the benefit area.

The land values were multiplied by the 10-percent damage factor to derive the relative land damage factors on a per-acre basis for each Assessor's land use code in the proposed assessment district as shown in Table 7.

[1] The relative Not-Less-Than Land Values are derived from the Summary Appraisal Report "San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency (Smith Canal)" of the subject property prepared by SeEVERS Jordan Ziegenmeyer dated April 4, 2011.

Parcel Size

Flood damages to land were calculated for each parcel in the benefit area using the acreage for the parcel in question and the associated land use code as identified by the respective County Assessor's records. To the extent parcels are only partially in the pre-project benefit area, only the portion of parcel acreage in the area is included in the land damage calculation.

Land Damage Example

As stated above, land damage is calculated for each individual parcel in the proposed assessment district based on the specific attributes for the parcel, i.e., land use type and size. For example the land damage for the following parcel would be calculated as follows:

General Formula

Land Damage = Parcel Acreage x Land Damage Factor

Example:

Single Story Single-Family Residence (Land Use Code 10)

Parcel Acreage: 0.18 acres

Land Damage = 0.18 Acres x $7,500 / Acre = $ 1,350

$1,350 represents the relative Land Damage benefit experienced by the example parcel presented. This benefit plus the structure and content damage benefit are used to determine the total relative benefit of the parcel to all other parcels in the benefit area.

Total Relative Flood Damage Reduction Benefit

The total relative flood damage reduction benefit for each parcel in the benefit area is the sum of the structure and content damages and the land damages associated with that parcel. Given the single-family residential examples above, the resulting total relative flood damage reduction benefit is calculated as follows:

General Formula

Total Relative Flood Damage Reduction Benefit = Structure and Content Damage + Land Damage

Example:

Single Story Single-Family Residence

Parcel Acreage: 0.18 acres

Building Square Feet: 1,500

Flood Depth 5 Feet

Structure and Content Damage = 1,500 SF x $60 / SF x 81.7% = $ 73,553

Land Damage = 0.18 Acres x $7,500 / Acre = $ 1,350

Total Flood Damage Reduction Benefit = $ 73,553 + $ 1,350 = $ 74,903

The analysis described above was performed for every parcel in the benefit area that was determined to have received special benefit. The sum of total benefits for all such parcels is $446,338,085.

Assessment Rate

Proposition 218 requires assessments levied to be proportional to the benefits conferred by the facilities and services provided. In order to ensure that the spread of assessments is proportional based upon the benefits calculated above, the engineer has divided the annual costs of the facilities and services by the total benefits calculated for all benefiting parcels. The maximum proportional assessment rate for parcels within the proposed assessment district is shown in Table 8.

Table 8

Initial Maximum Proportional Assessment Rate [1]	$ 0.00373	Assessment $ / Benefit $

[1] Reflects the initial maximum annual assessment for FY 13/14. Collection of the assessment would commence in FY 14/15. Admin and O&M component is subject to escalation commencing in FY 14/15 (Ref. Table 11). The amount in FY 14/15 would reflect cost escalation.

Assessment Calculation

To determine the maximum proportional assessment rate for an individual parcel, the flood damage reduction benefits for the parcel are calculated as described in the procedures above and then multiplied by the assessment rate shown in Table 8 above. The following example is based on the single-family residential example used previously.

General Formula

$$\text{Maximum Proportional Assessment}^1 = \text{Total Flood Damage Reduction Benefit} \times \text{Assessment Rate}$$

Example:

Single Story Single-Family Residence

Parcel Acreage: 0.18 acres

Building Square Feet: 1,500

Flood Depth 5 Feet

$$\text{Total Flood Damage Reduction Benefit} = $ 73,553 + $ 1,350 = $ 74,903$$

$$\text{Assessment Rate} = $0.00373$$

$$\text{Maximum Not-To-Exceed Assessment} = $74,880 \times $0.00373 = $ 279.39$$

In future years, as land use changes occur and the benefits to parcels change, parcels may be reclassified and their assessments modified accordingly.

Summary of Assessments

Appendix C provides a detailed listing by parcel of the maximum proportional assessments (subject to an annual inflationary escalation described in Chapter 5) that will be voted on by the property owners of parcels in the proposed assessment district. The average not-to-exceed assessment for all parcels in the proposed assessment district by general land use category and the breakdown of that assessment between Capital and Administration/O&M is shown in Table 9.

5. ASSESSMENT ADMINISTRATION

Implementation

Schedule for Collection

If landowners approve the proposed assessment, the SJAFCA Board intends to commence collection of the assessments in FY 2014/15. This would mean the first time property owners in the District would pay a portion of the proposed assessment would be on the FY 2014/15 property tax installment due no later than December 10, 2014. No assessments would be levied in FY 2013/14.

The Capital component of the assessment would be collected for up to 30 years from a permanent financing associated with the completion of the project. The Administration/O&M component of the assessment would be collected for as long as needed to effectively operate and maintain the facilities maintaining flood protection services.

Annual Escalation

The maximum proportional assessment rate, as shown in Table 8 is made up of two distinct components. These components, as described above are the Capital Component and Administration/O&M Component. A detailed breakdown of the maximum proportional assessment between these components is shown in Table 11 below. The Administration/O&M component is comprised primarily of labor costs that are subject to rising costs beyond the control of SJAFCA. In order to ensure that SJAFCA can provide the needed services over time, it is important to increase this component of the assessment overtime subject to the rising costs of labor over time. The engineer has determined that an appropriate escalation factor is a factor that is reflective of labor (not consumption) in the locale the services are provided.

Table 11
SJAFCA Smith Canal Area Assessment District
Assessment Rate Escalation Breakdown

Item	Amount	Reference
Initial Maximum Proportional Assessment Rate FY 2013/14 [1]	$ 0.00373	Table 8

Administration/O&M Component	21.7% $ 0.00081	Table 9

Annual Escalation Factor for Administrative/O&M Component: June to June CPI-W for San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, All Items with Base Year 1982-84 - 100.

[1] The Initial Maximum Proportional Assessment Rate is expressed in FY 2013/14's, however, collection commences in FY 2014/15. Escalation of the Administration/O&M Component of the assessment also commences in FY 2014/15.

Therefore; the Administration/O&M component will be subject to an annual inflationary escalator pursuant to Government Code §53739 (b) based on the annual change in the Consumer Price Index June to June CPI-W for San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose, All Items with Base Year 1982-84 = 100, published by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics, subject to a minimum of 0 percent and a maximum of 4 percent in any given year.¹

SJAFCA will apply the inflationary adjustment factor commencing in FY 2014/15 such that the rate collected in FY 2014/15 (the first year of assessment collection) has experience one year of escalation. Table 12 shows the annual assessment rate over time of the single family residential parcel.

DRAFT

¹ CPI-W is reflective of the rising cost of labor by urban wage earners versus CPI-U which is reflective of the rising costs of a standardized basket of goods purchased by urban consumers.

*For purposes of this analysis O&M & Admin Escalation is assumed to 3%. No collection would take place in FY 2013/14. Escalation commences in FY 2014/15.

Appeals of Assessments Levied to Property

Appeals Process

Any property owner who believes his or her property should be reclassified and the assessment adjusted may file a written appeal with the Executive Director of SJAFCA or his or her designee. The appeal must include a statement of reasons why the property should be reclassified, and may include supporting evidence. Any such appeal is limited to correction of an assessment during the then-current fiscal year. On the filing of any such appeal, the Executive Director or his or her designee will promptly review the appeal and any information provided by the property owner, and may investigate and assemble additional evidence necessary to evaluate the appeal. If the Executive Director or his or her designee finds that the assessment should be modified, the appropriate changes will be made to the assessment roll. If any such changes are approved after the assessment roll has been filed with the respective county for collection, the Executive Director or his or her designee is authorized to refund the property owner the amount of any approved reduction to the assessment. If a landowner disputes the decision of the Executive Director or his or her designee, a secondary appeal may be made to the SJAFCA Board, which will hold public hearing on the matter. Any decision made by Board shall be final. In order to administer an effective appeals process, from time to time, the Executive Director and/or SJAFCA Board may adopt certain policies and procedures related to the administration of the assessment.

Impact of Appeals

Much of the data being used by SJAFCA to generate the assessment rates for specific parcels comes from the San Joaquin County Assessor. Because this data is not maintained by the Assessor in a form designed to support this Special Benefit Assessment effort, SJAFCA staff has worked to refine the data so it properly reflects the conditions present in the physical benefit area. However, throughout the formation period (and indeed even after the formation of the assessment district), data errors and discrepancies with County Assessor data will likely surface and require modification of the assessment calculation for various parcels. Changes in the data without a corresponding change in the rates established by this report will, by definition change the total amount of assessments levied and collected in any one year. For example, if the data assumes the existence of a house that has since burned down and not been reconstructed, once the database is corrected the rates will generate a smaller total assessment. On the other hand, if the data assumes an empty lot where a house has since been constructed, once the database is corrected the rates will generate a larger total assessment. Due to the database being constantly refined (either through internal review or an external appeal process), it is infeasible to fine-tune the rates as between the Preliminary Engineer's Report, and the Final Engineer's Report. In addition, because changes to the database will either increase or decrease the total amount assessed, it is presumed that these amount will roughly offset each other. Therefore, although minor changes to the database will continuing to be made during the formation period, the rates proposed in this Report are not being adjusted, even though that will result in an initial maximum proportional assessment that is slightly less than or slightly more than $1,663,400.

Duration of the Assessment

If approved by property owners in an assessment ballot proceeding conducted pursuant to Article XIID of the State Constitution and Government Code § 53750 et. seq., the assessment will be levied annually commencing with Fiscal Year 2014/15. The Capital Component of the assessment will be collected for 30 years from point in time when a permanent takeout financing is completed which is expected to take place in 2016. The Administrative/O&M Component of the assessment will be collected in perpetuity so long as the flood protection service is provided by the authorized facilities, and may be adjusted each year to reflect the authorized annual escalation for inflation described herein. The assessment may be periodically adjusted within the authorized range of assessment based on annual budgeting needs as determined by the SJAFCA Board.

Minimum Assessments

The minimum annual assessment will be $5.00 to reflect SJAFCA's direct cost to collect the assessment. All annual assessments calculated to be less than $5.00 will be raised to the $5.00 minimum.

DRAFT

6. CONCLUSIONS

It is concluded that the proposed new assessments do not exceed the special benefit received by the properties assessed over and above the benefits conferred on the public at large. It is also concluded that the amount of each assessment is proportional to, and no greater than, the proportional special benefits conferred on each property assessed.

7. SCHEDULE

To have an assessment district in place with sufficient time to provide the needed secured funding mechanism to match DWR EIP funding and provide for a LOMR of the area, SJAFCA has embarked on the following schedule to establish the proposed assessment district.

Date	Event
January 30, 2013	Regular SJAFCA Board Meeting Board Action: Adopt Resolution of Intention to undertake a proceeding for the formation of proposed assessment district, tentatively approve the Preliminary Engineer's Report, and set the date and time for a public hearing to consider formation of the proposed assessment district.
No later than April 19, 2013	Mail Notice of Public Hearing and Ballots.
April 22, 2013	Public Open House Stockton, CA
June 5, 2013	SJAFCA Board Meeting with Public Hearing on formation of proposed assessment district: Property owners can cast ballots or change ballots. The Board shall consider any protests against the proposed assessment district and receive public testimony. The Board will direct its Secretary to tabulate the ballots received. The Board will adjourn the meeting to allow Secretary to tabulate ballots.
June 19, 2013	Tabulation to occur; public allowed to view the tabulation.
July 10, 2013	SJAFCA Board Meeting: Reconvene from June 5, 2012, meeting. Receive and certify ballot tabulation. If approved, the Board will consider adopting a Resolution of Formation confirming Engineer's Report (including any needed modifications), and order the formation and scheduled collection of the Assessments.

SJAFCA Smith Canal Gate Structure

Operation & Maintenance Requirements

April 28, 2011

Prepared by: Dave Murbach, P.E.

Purpose and Need

The San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency is in the process of designing a gate structure for Smith Canal. The proposed project will construct a gate structure at the mouth of Smith Canal on the San Joaquin River/Stockton Deep Water Ship Channel in Stockton (see Figure 1). The gate structure is needed because the existing levees along Smith Canal do not meet FEMA or State standards for levees, placing approximately 8,100 homes at risk from flooding. Since the Smith Canal levees are not accredited to FEMA standards, the gate structure at the mouth of Smith Canal will be operated in order to control back-flooding from the San Joaquin River and Delta during winter months (November 1st to April 30th) when high river flows typically occur in the Smith Canal area. The purpose of this technical memorandum is to identify the operation and maintenance requirements and the associated costs for the Smith Canal gate structure.

Project Description

The proposed gate structure will consist of a fixed sheet pile wall structure across the opening of Smith Canal. A gate structure will be provided to allow for navigation. Figure 2 present a layout for the proposed Smith Canal gate structure.

The fixed portion of the gate structure will consist of a dual sheet pile wall filled with granular material. The opening in the gate structure will be an "Obermeyer" type gate structure, consisting of two 60-foot wide stainless steel gate panels that will be raised and lowered by inflating and deflating rubber air bladders (see Figure 3). The air bladders will be inflated using air compressors housed in a control building located on the end of Dad's Point. The control building also houses the operating system, control valves, and an emergency generator. Since the gate panel and air bladders will always be submerged, stop logs are provided on both sides of the opening to allow for maintenance of the equipment.

The operational concept for the gate structure is to close the structure during tide events forecasted to approach or exceed the design operating water surface elevation (7.0 ft, NAVD88). The gate structure gate would be operated as needed during these times to prevent high flows from entering Smith Canal. The gate would be raised at the lowest tide prior to the forecasted high tide and remain closed until the high tide begins to recede. The gate would then be opened to allow any accumulated interior drainage behind the gate structure to flow out. Table 1 presents the number of gate closures that would have occurred between 2000 and 2009. Note that the number of closures per year over this period ranged from 1 to 33.

Table 1. Number of Days with Stage greater than 7.0 ft NAVD88

Year	No. Days with Stage $\geq$ 7.0 ft NAVD88
2000	18
2001	1
2002	7
2003	14
2004	15
2005	33
2006	6
2007	7
2008	15
2009	20
Total	136

Note that since 2000, the highest low-low tide at the Burns Cutoff Gage Station was 4.8 ft NAVD88. Therefore, it is anticipated that any storm water that accumulates behind the gate structure will be released when the gate is opened during the next low tide.

Woodbridge Irrigation District O&M Experience

Woodbridge Irrigation District has been operating an Obermeyer gate structure since 2004. The main purpose of WID's gate is for level control and functions as an adjustable weir. The gate operates continuously for 11 months out of the year. One month each year they take the gate out of service for maintenance. During this month they clean and inspect every part of the gate and check for cuts in the rubber air bladder. To date they have not had any leaks in the air bladders, but repair numerous surface cuts in the outer layer of the bladder each year. Typical annual O&M expenses for the WID gate structure include:

- $500/yr for materials to repair the air bladders
- $800/yr for rental of torque wrench to apply 12,000 lb torque to hinge bolts
- $800 - $1,000/yr for outside service to provide compressor service
- $1,000 - $1,200/yr for outside service to provide emergency generator service

Typical weekly operator activities include blowing out condensation from the air lines and removing debris.

During startup of the WID gates, no additional costs were incurred. O&M costs have been consistent for the past six years. WID's assessment collects funds to replace the bladders, straps, hinges, and air compressor assuming a 20-year life. No replacement of the gates or emergency generator is anticipated.

Operating and Maintenance Requirements

The O&M requirements addressed in this analysis are for the gate (and its associated equipment/building), the dual sheet pile structure and the Dad's Point sheet pile flood wall. Dad's Point is proposed to be accredited as a levee. However, since Dad's Point is currently operated and maintained as a park, it has been assumed that the park use will continue and no additional 'levee maintenance' will be needed. Therefore, no Dad's Point levee maintenance costs are included in this analysis. The O&M cost analysis has been broken into the following categories:

- Gate Operation
- Equipment Testing
- Routine Maintenance and Inspection
- Emergency Maintenance
- Equipment Replacement/Capital Reserve

Gate Operation

Gate operation includes physical operation of the gate as well as determining when the gate will need to be closed. Each year, prior to November 1st, the tide prediction tables will be evaluated for predicted high tides greater than 7.0 ft NAVD88. These high tides will be used to develop an "alert" table to help plan activities during the winter months. In addition, since rainfall and runoff impact the tides, the daily stage predictions generated by DWR must be monitored. The gate will be closed/opened on an as needed basis, but based on the information presented in Table 1 it was assumed that there will be 15 closures per year.

Equipment Testing

Equipment testing is required to make sure the gate and emergency generator will function as desired in the event they are needed. The gate will be tested monthly during the "dry" season (May 1st to October 31st). The engine generator will be tested monthly throughout the year.

Routine Maintenance and Inspection

Routine maintenance and inspection are required to ensure that flood protection will be provided by these improvements in the future. The maintenance/inspection frequencies for the gate structure equipment are taken from the draft O&M Manual for the facility provided by the gate manufacturer. Most equipment associated with the gate structure requires annual maintenance and inspection including:

- Air Compressor
- Emergency Generator, including the automatic transfer system equipment
- Gate – abutment seals, air bladders, inter-panel seals, restraining straps, gate panels, and anchor bolts
- Sheet Pile Structures – maintenance of corrosion protection system
- Dad's Point Levee

Since the gate structure is submerged year-round, stop logs must be placed across both sides of the opening and the space between the stop logs pumped out using a portable pump before any maintenance can occur. It was assumed that the stop logs will be installed and removed with a rented crane/boom truck and operator from an on-site storage area.

In addition, routine maintenance of the dual sheet pile structure corrosion protection system is assumed to occur every two years. Graffiti removal from the control building, dual sheet pile structure and the Dad's Point sheet pile flood wall is estimated to be required every two weeks. Debris removal at the gate structure is estimated to be required weekly using a boat purchased with the original construction. Costs for maintenance of the Dad's Point Levee are based on cost per mile maintenance costs for similar levee systems ($30k - $45k/mile).

To account for unaccounted for expenses and unforeseen costs, a 20% contingency has been added to the routine maintenance portion of the annual O&M budget.

Emergency Maintenance

Provisions for emergency maintenance during the winter season are included to address maintenance of the gate structure. For the purposes of this analysis, it was assumed that an air bladder needs repair due to unforeseen conditions (e.g. boat anchor puncture) every five years. Note that to repair the air bladders, the stop logs must be put in place prior to the start of any maintenance activities.

Equipment Replacement/Capital Reserve

All of the equipment and facilities proposed for the Smith Canal gate structure have a limited life, ranging from 20 years to 100 years. The cost of replacement should be collected and saved over time to ensure money is available for replacement (permitting, design, demolition, and installation) when required. For the purposes of this analysis, the useful life for equipment and facilities was estimated as follows:

- 20-year Life: air compressor, boat and engine generator

- 30-year Life: air bladders, stop logs, and control panels
- 50-year Life: gate structure panels and control building roof
- 100-year Life: control building, dual sheet pile structure and Dad's Point sheet pile flood wall

Annual equipment replacement costs were based on 2011 capital cost estimate presented in the Smith Canal Early Implementation Program Project Report (February 2011). These capital costs were divided by the number of years of useful life. Therefore, cost increases due to inflation need to be considered when developing the annual O&M assessment methodology.

Operation & Maintenance Costs

Table 2 presents a summary of the estimated O&M costs for the Smith Canal gate structure (See Attachment 1 for the detailed estimate). The estimate includes a 20% contingency for account for unforeseen costs. Note that the annual labor and equipment costs are based on 2011 dollars. Therefore, cost increases due to inflation need to be considered when developing the annual O&M assessment methodology.

Table 2 – Estimated Annual O&M Costs

O&M Category	Annual Labor Cost	Annual Equipment Cost	Total Annual O&M Cost
Operation	$ 75,100	-	$ 75,100
Testing	$ 8,400	-	$ 8,400
Routine Maintenance & Inspection	$ 71,000	$ 46,000	$ 117,100
Emergency Maintenance	$ 1,700	$ 2,700	$ 4,400
Equipment Replacement/ Capital Reserve	-	$ 119,800	$ 119,800
TOTALS	$ 156,200	$ 168,500	$ 324,800

O&M needs can vary from year to year depending on the tides, weather, and unforeseen emergencies – but the amounts estimated should be the average over many years. A significant portion of the estimated O&M costs are for the operation of the Smith Canal gate structure. Note that the average number of closures per year was used to generate this estimate, which is based on the river stage. Based on the annual range of closures for the past 10 years presented in Table 1 (1 to 33 closures/year), the $75,100 cost for operation alone could vary from $33,200 to $129,000. The remaining annual costs for each O&M category should remain relatively constant – with the exception of emergency maintenance due to unforeseen circumstances. Therefore, the total annual O&M costs should be expected to range between $282,000 and $379,000.

Basis of Labor per Hour Costs

The entity/organization which will carry out O&M activities has not yet been identified. For the purposes of this analysis, City of Stockton data were used to estimate labor hourly costs since SJAFCA is currently staffed with City of Stockton staff. A 2.0 multiplier was applied to the top end of the City of Stockton pay rates to account for benefits, payroll taxes, direct, and indirect costs. This multiplier was calculated using the SJAFCA Quarterly Expense data presented at the January 26, 2011 Board Meeting. The job classifications and the associated hourly rates used in this analysis were as follows:

- Senior Civil Engineer - $53/hour x 2.0 = $106/hour
- Senior Mechanical Maintenance Worker - $30.50/hour x 2.0 = $61/hour
- Maintenance Worker II - $22/hour x 2.0 = $44/hour
- Office Assistant II - $21/hour x 2.0 = $42/hour

RE: San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency (Smith Canal)
Stockton, San Joaquin County, California

Dear Mr. Wurzel:

At your request and authorization, Seevers • Jordan • Ziegenmeyer has analyzed market data for the purpose of estimating the base, not-less-than, market value by land use code (fee simple estate) of the properties within the area of benefit of San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency's proposed Smith Canal Project (Benefit Area), under the assumptions and conditions set forth in this report. The conclusions of value exclude any contributory value of the improvements. The estimates of not-less-than market value, by Land Use Code, will then be used by Capitol Public Finance Group, LLC (Capitol PFG) and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck as one component in the determination of an assessment amount, per Assessor's parcel, within the taxable area benefitting from the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area.

The appraisal report has been conducted in accordance with appraisal standards and guidelines found in the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) for Mass Appraisals, and the scope of work outlined in this report is based on the specific intended use of this appraisal report (please refer to the Scope of Work section presented later in this report). For the purposes of this appraisal, an inspection of each Assessor's parcel identified in the Assessor's Tax Roll provided for use in this analysis was not conducted. This document is a Summary Appraisal Report intended to comply with the reporting requirements set forth under Standards Rule 2-2(b) of USPAP.

The San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area is located within the city of Stockton, and San Joaquin County, and is generally bounded by the Calaveras River to the north, San Joaquin River to the west, the Stockton Deep Water Channel to the south and Pacific Avenue to the east (as depicted on the boundary map on the following page). The benefit Area comprises 8,071 Assessor's parcels. The land within the District is substantially devoted to residential uses, with supporting commercial, industrial and public facilities, as well as recreational land uses, including a golf course and marina.

The purpose and intended use of this appraisal is to provide the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency with a "base line" or not-less-than market value for each County Land Use code encumbering properties within the Area of Benefit of the Smith Canal Project. The estimates of not-less-than market value and other factors (i.e., elevation) will be used by Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck to establish an assessment amount, per Assessor's parcel, within the Benefit Area.

The value estimates provided assume a transfer would reflect a cash transaction or terms considered to be equivalent to cash. The estimates are also premised on an assumed sale after reasonable exposure in a competitive market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, with buyer and seller each acting prudently, knowledgeably, for their own self interest and assuming neither is under duress.

This letter must remain attached to the report, which contains 77 pages, plus related exhibits and Addenda, in order for the value opinions contained herein to be considered valid.

As a result of our analysis, it is our opinion the not-less-than market value of each San Joaquin County land use code, in accordance with the assumptions and conditions set forth in the attached document (please refer to pages 8 through 10), as of March 10, 2011, is presented in the chart on the following pages.

INTRODUCTION

Property Description and History

The San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project benefit Area is located in the city of Stockton and San Joaquin County, and is generally bounded by the Calaveras River to the north, San Joaquin River to the west, Stockton Deep Water Channel to the south and Pacific Avenue to the east. The Smith Canal Project comprises 8,071 Assessor's parcels. The land within the District is substantially devoted to residential uses, with supporting commercial, industrial and public facilities, as well as recreational land uses, including a golf course and marina.

Type and Definition of Value

In this appraisal, the base, not-less-than market value of the fee simple interest in the subject properties will be estimated, by County of San Joaquin Land Use Code, as of a current date of value. Market value is defined as follows:

Market Value: The most probable price which a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller each acting prudently and knowledgeably, and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus. Implicit in this definition is the consummation of a sale as of a specified date and the passing of title from seller to buyer under conditions whereby:

- (1) Buyer and seller are typically motivated;
- (2) Both parties are well informed or well advised, and acting in what they consider their own best interests;
- (3) A reasonable time is allowed for exposure in the open market;
- (4) Payment is made in terms of cash in U.S. dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; and
- (5) The price represents the normal consideration for the property sold unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale.¹

Client, Intended User and Intended Use of the Appraisal

The client and intended user for this appraisal is Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck, on behalf of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency, which is also an intended user. The intended use of this appraisal is to provide Capitol PFG with a "base line" or not-less-than market value for each County Land Use code encumbering properties within the Area of Benefit of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. The estimates of not-less-than market value, by Land Use Code, and other factors (i.e., elevation) will be used by Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck to establish an assessment amount, per Assessor's parcel, within the area benefiting from the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. Please note no other uses or users are authorized to rely on this document.

Property Rights Appraised

The values by land use code estimated in this appraisal are for the fee simple estate, defined as follows:

Fee Simple Estate: absolute ownership unencumbered by any other interest or estate, subject only to the limitations imposed by the governmental powers of taxation, eminent domain, police power, and escheat.²

The rights appraised are also subject to the General and Extraordinary Assumptions, Limiting Conditions and Significant Factors contained in this report and to any exceptions, encroachments, easements and rights-of-way recorded.

Appraisal Report Format

This report documents a Summary Appraisal Report, in accordance with the reporting requirements set forth under Standards Rule 2-2(b) of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP).

Dates of Value and Report

The date of value for the subject properties incorporated herein is March 10, 2011. The appraisal report was completed and assembled on May 4, 2011.

Scope of Work

This appraisal report has been prepared in accordance with the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) for Mass Appraisals. This analysis is intended to be an “appraisal assignment,” as defined by USPAP; the intention is the appraisal service be performed in such a manner that the result of the analysis, opinions or conclusion be that of a disinterested third party. More specifically, this appraisal report was prepared based on the specifications of the client and their intended use and the intended purpose, which is to provide Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck with a “base line” or not-less-than market value for each County Land Use code encumbering properties within the Area of Benefit of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. The estimates of not-less-than market value, by Land Use Code, will then be used by Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck as one component in the determination of an assessment amount, per Assessor’s parcel, within the area benefitting from the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project.

The appraisal report has been conducted in accordance with appraisal standards and guidelines found in the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) for Mass Appraisals, and the scope of work outlined in this report is based on the specific intended use of this appraisal report. This appraisal report does not provide an estimated of market value of each Assessor’s parcel situated within the boundaries of the District. Rather, it provides an estimate of not-less-than market value on a per acre basis, by County of San Joaquin Land Use Code. For the purposes of this appraisal, an inspection of each Assessor’s parcel identified in the Assessor’s Tax Roll provided for use in this analysis was not conducted. Assessor’s parcel information and County Land Use Codes were provided by Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck, on behalf of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency. Several legal and physical aspects of the subject properties were researched and documented based on information provided by Capitol PFG, San Joaquin County Assessor’s parcel maps and aerial images available through public, on-line resources, in addition to site inspections of portions of the properties within the boundaries of the benefit area. Documents provided for use in this appraisal include a List of Benefitting Parcels, prepared by Capitol PFG, and San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Boundary map prepared by Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck (KSN), Inc., civil engineers and land surveyors.

Data relating to the subjects’ regional market area were researched and analyzed. This information was obtained through personal inspections of portions of the neighborhood and market area; newspaper articles; real estate conferences; and interviews with various market participants, including property owners, property managers, brokers, developers and local government agencies.

In this appraisal, the highest and best use of the subject properties as though vacant was determined, based on the four standard tests (legal permissibility, physical possibility, financial feasibility and maximum productivity). A determination of highest and best use as improved is not relevant since the purpose of the valuation analysis is to determine a base, not-less-than market value of the underlying land use code. The conclusions of value exclude any contributory value of the improvements.

In the valuation of the various land uses comprising San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area, the sales comparison approach to value was employed, analyzing several data sets in the subjects’ market area and surrounding areas. For purposes of analysis, the subject properties were categorized by the following land use designations: improved single-family residential lots, commercial sites (retail and office), industrial sites and transitional land. As will be discussed in the Highest and Best Use Analysis section, it is not currently financially feasible to install site improvements to manufacture lots or construct new commercial developments in light of the contractions in the financial and commercial real estate market. For this reason, the subjects’ unimproved land parcels were analyzed using comparable speculative (transitional) land transactions in the region via the sales comparison approach. This valuation method is considered to provide the most reasonable estimate of market value for the intended use of this report. The cost and income capitalization approaches were not applicable to the valuation of the land use codes as vacant land. The derivations of market value concluded and presented herein are intended to be not-less-than values.

I, Eric A. Segal, Appraiser, collected and confirmed data related to the subject properties, comparable properties and the neighborhood/market area; analyzed market data; and prepared a report with estimates of “base line” or not-less-than market value for each County Land Use code encumbering properties within the Area of Benefit of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project.

EXTRAORDINARY ASSUMPTIONS AND HYPOTHETICAL CONDITIONS

It is noted the use of an extraordinary assumption or hypothetical condition can affect the results of an appraisal.

Extraordinary Assumptions

1. Current preliminary title reports were not provided for use in this appraisal. It is assumed there are no adverse easements, encroachments or other conditions that negatively impact Assessor's parcels situated within the Benefit Area of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. The client is advised to obtain preliminary title reports to determine any possible conditions of title affecting properties within the boundaries of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. The appraiser accepts no responsibility for matters pertaining to title.

Hypothetical Conditions

None

Significant Factors

1. Per your request, the estimates of "base value" or "not less than value" presented herein provides no contributory value to any in place structural improvements.

GENERAL ASSUMPTIONS AND LIMITING CONDITIONS

1. No responsibility is assumed for the legal description provided or for matters pertaining to legal or title considerations. Title to the property is assumed to be good and marketable unless otherwise stated.
2. No responsibility is assumed for matters of law or legal interpretation.
3. The property is appraised free and clear of any or all liens or encumbrances unless otherwise stated.
4. The information and data furnished by others in preparation of this report is believed to be reliable, but no warranty is given for its accuracy.
5. It is assumed there are no hidden or unapparent conditions of the property, subsoil, or structures that render it more or less valuable. No responsibility is assumed for such conditions or for obtaining the engineering studies that may be required to discover them.
6. It is assumed the property is in full compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local environmental regulations and laws unless the lack of compliance is stated, described, and considered in the appraisal report.
7. It is assumed the property conforms to all applicable zoning and use regulations and restrictions unless nonconformity has been identified, described and considered in the appraisal report.
8. It is assumed all required licenses, certificates of occupancy, consents, and other legislative or administrative authority from any local, state, or national government or private entity or organization have been or can be obtained or renewed for any use on which the value estimate contained in this report is based.
9. It is assumed the use of the land and improvements is confined within the boundaries or property lines of the property described and there is no encroachment or trespass unless noted in the report.
10. Unless otherwise stated in this report, the existence of hazardous materials, which may or may not be present on the property, was not observed by the appraiser. The appraiser has no knowledge of the existence of such materials on or in the property. The appraiser, however, is not qualified to detect such substances. The presence of substances such as asbestos, urea-formaldehyde foam insulation and other potentially hazardous materials may affect the value of the property. The value estimated is predicated on the assumption there is no such material on or in the property that would cause a loss in value. No responsibility is assumed for such conditions or for any expertise or engineering knowledge required to discover them. The intended user of this report is urged to retain an expert in this field, if desired.
11. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) became effective January 26, 1992. I (we) have not made a specific survey or analysis of this property to determine whether the physical aspects of the improvements meet the ADA accessibility guidelines. Since compliance matches each owner's financial ability with the cost-to cure the property's potential physical characteristics, the real estate appraiser cannot comment on compliance with ADA. A brief summary of the subject's physical aspects is included in this report. It in no way suggests ADA compliance by the current owner. Given that compliance can change with each owner's financial ability to cure non-accessibility, the value of the subject does not consider possible non-compliance. Specific study of both the owner's financial ability and the cost-to-cure any deficiencies would be needed for the Department of Justice to determine compliance.

12. The appraisal is to be considered in its entirety and use of only a portion thereof will render the appraisal invalid.
13. Possession of this report or a copy thereof does not carry with it the right of publication nor may it be used for any purpose by anyone other than the client without the previous written consent of Seevers • Jordan • Ziegenmeyer.
14. Neither all nor any part of the contents of this report (especially any conclusions as to value, the identity of the appraiser, or the firm with which the appraiser is connected) shall be disseminated to the public through advertising, public relations, news, sales, or any other media without the prior written consent and approval of Seevers • Jordan • Ziegenmeyer. Seevers • Jordan • Ziegenmeyer authorizes the reproduction of this report in its entirety for Assessment purposes.
15. The liability of Seevers • Jordan • Ziegenmeyer and its employees/subcontractors for errors/ omissions, if any, in this work is limited to the amount of its compensation for the work performed in this assignment.
16. Acceptance and/or use of the appraisal report constitutes acceptance of all assumptions and limiting conditions stated in this report.
17. An inspection of the subject property revealed no apparent adverse easements, encroachments or other conditions, which currently impact the subject. However, the exact locations of typical roadway and utility easements, or any additional easements, which would be referenced in a preliminary title report, were not provided to the appraiser. The appraiser is not a surveyor nor qualified to determine the exact location of easements. It is assumed typical easements do not have an impact on the opinion (s) of value as provided in this report. If, at some future date, these easements are determined to have a detrimental impact on value, the appraiser reserves the right to amend the opinion (s) of value.
18. This appraisal report is prepared for the exclusive use of the appraiser's client. No third parties are authorized to rely upon this report without the express consent of the appraiser.
19. The appraiser is not qualified to determine the existence of mold, the cause of mold, the type of mold or whether mold might pose any risk to the property or its inhabitants. Additional inspection by a qualified professional is recommended.

MACROECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Introduction

As the year 2011 begins, the U.S. economy is showing signs of stabilization after a tumultuous couple of years, but recovery is expected to be long and slow. The national unemployment rate has held steady at just under 10% for several months (9.6% in October) and is expected to be about the same or slightly lower in 2011. GDP averaged about 2.8% growth in 2010, and should be similar in 2011. Inflation is expected to rise to about 1.5% in 2011, compared to about 1% in 2010.

In late 2008 and much of 2009, the nation experienced the largest financial crisis in decades. The crisis stemmed mainly from subprime mortgage lending practices and the subsequent decline in the housing market. The events of 2008-2009 are widely known and documented, including housing market declines, property foreclosures, bank failures, Federal bailouts, stimulus spending, etc. Bank lending was very limited in the early months of the crisis, but many banks have resumed lending at this point, albeit with much tighter restrictions. Many of the nation's largest financial institutions are now repaying Federal bailouts, but access to the capital markets remains difficult as bank balance sheets continue to be clogged with troubled loans and other assets.

Employment Conditions

The national unemployment rate rose above 10% in 2009, marking the first time the unemployment rate reached double-digits in 26 years. Payrolls fell throughout 2009, bringing the total number of unemployed persons to nearly 15 million. However, in recent periods job losses have moderated in many industry sectors, and the national unemployment rate has dipped below 10%. As of October 2010, the U.S. unemployment rate was 9.6%, which was unchanged from the previous month and down slightly from 10.2% in October 2009.

In California, the unemployment rate was 12.4% in October 2010, which was unchanged from the previous month and up slightly from 12.2% in October 2009. The state's unemployment rate has remained relatively stable for the past several months. Future job growth is difficult to forecast, but most experts do not expect the state to see significant employment growth for several years. California's budget deficit is a factor in the jobs outlook. Even with the passing of a budget in October 2010 aimed at alleviating the ballooning deficit, the State has remained in a budget deficit since 2009, when the Governor declared a fiscal "state of emergency" affecting both state and local governments. State government employees, who comprise a substantial portion of workers in the Sacramento region, were forced to take several unpaid furlough days each month in order to help improve the budget deficit. However, much of the savings from the mandatory furlough will be offset by reduced revenue and increased costs to the state general fund in future years. Thus, the budget deficit is not expected to improve significantly in the near-term, which could prolong recovery in the local economy.

Outlook for Commercial Real Estate

Generally speaking, commercial real estate conditions improved slightly in 2010 compared to the preceding couple of years. However, stabilization has been shaky and recovery is expected to be protracted. The Kiplinger Letter for November 2010 described the outlook for commercial real estate as "still ugly, though less so than a year ago." In Emerging Trends in Real Estate 2011, published in late 2010 by the Urban Land Institute and PricewaterhouseCoopers, market conditions were summarized as follows: "After three years of dislocation and delaying unprecedented losses, the U.S. real estate industry finally sees some hopeful signs in 2011 of tempered improvement – across all markets and all property sectors." In most metropolitan areas, market activity (sales and leasing) is increasing and buyers and sellers are moving closer on pricing. But while new financing is now available, strict lending practices continue to make it difficult for potential buyers to obtain loans in the current market.

Another challenge comes from real estate loans coming due that were made during the peak expansion years. For example, 5-year loans made in the year 2006 will become due in 2011, with many borrowers unable to pay or refinance. This means additional commercial foreclosures are likely to hit the market. However, compared to the residential sector, which has seen big waves of significant foreclosure activity, the commercial sector should see a longer and slower correction. This is because of "pretend and extend" practices, an increase in note sales, the return of the commercial mortgage backed-securities market, and an increase in refinancing and loan workouts. Some troubled assets will still return to the marketplace, but on a more limited and gradual basis than was once expected. While commercial real estate values may see further declines, they should not be as significant as those seen in the 2007-2009 period. On a national basis, commercial properties have seen declines of 30 to 50 percent, on average, from the peak in 2007.

Capitalization rates and yield rates increased significantly in 2008-2009 as lenders and equity investors perceived greater risk in real estate investments. On average, rates stabilized in 2010, although there continue to be many differences among locations and property types. According to Emerging Trends in Real Estate 2011, "Expected cap rate moves through year-end 2011 indicate an overall stable to downward shift as demand strengthens across most property sectors in a slow recovery."

With respect to land, many developers that hold title to unimproved properties are holding for development until market conditions show more solid improvement. Many improved properties are transferring for less than replacement cost, indicating the infeasibility of new construction in the current market. By most accounts, the market for vacant land continues to be limited, except for speculators willing to hold the land for a number of years, or properties for which build-to-suit arrangements have been made. Recovery in the land market is not expected until the commercial sector reaches a point where new construction is feasible.

Conclusion

After market conditions declined in 2008-2009 amid turmoil in the financial markets and great uncertainty about the economy, the year 2010 was characterized by stabilization. As 2011 begins investor and consumer confidence have improved compared to a year ago. Nevertheless, credit remains tight, employment is stagnant, and vacancy remains high for commercial properties. Given current and recent conditions in the economy, employment and credit markets, the expectation is that job growth will be sluggish for several years and the recovery for commercial real estate will be long and slow.

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY REGIONAL OVERVIEW

Introduction

San Joaquin County is located in the north central part of the San Joaquin Valley, and is bordered by Sacramento County to the north, Stanislaus County to the south, Calaveras County to the east and Alameda County to the west. The Sierra Nevada Mountains line the county's eastern border, while the Pacific Coast Range and the Sacramento River Delta border the county on the west. The Stockton Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA) includes all of San Joaquin County, and is made up of the communities of Stockton, Lodi, Manteca, Tracy, Ripon, Lathrop and Escalon. Stockton is the County Seat and is located on the San Joaquin River east of the Delta, a fertile agricultural area at the confluence of the San Joaquin and Sacramento Rivers, approximately 30 to 35 miles west. The county's 902,400 acres consists mainly of level, irrigated orchards and farmland with fertile soils. San Joaquin County has historically been an agricultural region, but recently more industry and technology related businesses have located in the area.

Population

The population of San Joaquin County is about 694,000, and has shown moderate growth over the past five years, with an average growth rate of 1.3% per year. Stockton is by far the most populous city, with about 292,000 residents. Lathrop, Ripon and Manteca represent the fastest growing cities in the county.

The following table illustrates recent population trends for areas within San Joaquin County.

POPULATION TRENDS
City	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	2010	%/Yr

In the past couple of years, population growth has slowed amid the housing market contraction and economic recession. In 2004, one of the peak growth years, the county had a net in-migration of 12,690 persons, many of whom relocated from the more costly San Francisco Bay Area. In 2006, the net in-migration was similar, at 12,641 persons. Over the past three years, the level of in-migration from outside the county declined and was about around 6,000 to 7,000 per year.

Transportation

California's two main north-south arterials, Interstate 5 and Highway 99, travel through San Joaquin County. Interstate 5 travels the length of California from its southern border with Mexico north to Canada. State Highway 99 parallels Interstate 5, connecting Stockton to Fresno and Bakersfield to the south and Sacramento to the north. The city of Tracy has good access to the San Francisco Bay Area. Interstate 580/205 extends from Tracy westward to the cities of Livermore, Pleasanton, Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose.

The region also has an extensive network of railways. Union Pacific, ACE Commuter Express and Amtrak all have stops in Stockton and connect with the rest of the nation. Burlington Northern Santa Fe (BNSF) operates an intermodal facility in southeastern Stockton, providing long haul transportation requirements. The Altamont Commuter Express (ACE) opened for commuter travel in June 1998. This train travels between Stockton, at its most eastern terminus, through Tracy to San Jose and the East Bay Area. This train provides alternate transportation for thousands of commuters who live in the valley but work in San Jose or the East Bay.

Air transportation facilities throughout California's Central Valley provide access to international freight, shipments and commercial access to major western markets. The main airport in San Joaquin County is Stockton Metropolitan Airport. In 2003, Emery Forwarding began offering six times per week cargo service from Stockton to Dayton, Ohio. Between 2001 and 2003, America West Express provided twice-daily passenger service to Phoenix, but has since discontinued service in Stockton. In 2006, Allegiant Air began offering service from Stockton to Las Vegas five days a week. International airports are located in Sacramento, Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose.

San Joaquin County has an excellent water transportation network. The city of Stockton is situated along the San Joaquin Delta, which connects to the San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers. The Port of Stockton is the third largest landholder port in California and has a Foreign Trade Zone designation. The Port operates on 2,100 acres, with berthing space for 17 vessels and more than 1.1 million square feet of dockside transit sheds. There are an additional 7.7 million square feet of warehouses available for dry bulk, break bulk and other materials. Stockton's deep water channel has an average depth of 35 feet, which is deep enough to allow access to ships similar in size to those traveling through the Panama Canal.

Employment & Economy

The California Employment Development Department has reported the following employment data for San Joaquin County over the past several years.

EMPLOYMENT TRENDS
	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	Nov. 2010
Labor Force	285,200	286,500	291,700	294,400	299,500	299,000
Employment	262,600	265,200	268,100	264,000	253,300	246,600
Unemployment Rate	7.9%	7.4%	8.1%	10.3%	15.4%	17.5%

Source: California Employment Development Department

The unemployment rate in San Joaquin County was 17.5% in November 2010, which compares to 12.4% for the state of California and 9.8% for the nation. Most areas within the state and nation, including San Joaquin County, saw rising unemployment rates in 2001 and 2002, stabilization in 2003, declines in 2004 through 2006, and increases from 2007 to date.

Despite recent job losses, one of the positive attributes of San Joaquin County is that it has a diverse economy, with no one sector accounting for a majority of the employment in the region. The following chart indicates the percentage of total employment for each sector within the county.

As can be seen in the chart above, the area's largest employment sectors are trade, transportation, and utilities (which includes retail and wholesale trade); government; and educational and health services. Agriculture was once a significant employment base but now represents a declining share of total employment. Despite the loss of numerous jobs in agriculture, San Joaquin ranks seventh statewide in total value of leading commodities, including milk, grapes, almonds, tomatoes and walnuts. San Joaquin County is one of the top crop-producing counties in the United States.

In recent years, San Joaquin County has been shifting toward an industrial based economy. Local chambers of commerce and other agencies are actively marketing the area as an industrial location. Several prominent national companies have relocated to San Joaquin County in recent years, such as Safeway, Oscar Meyer, Del Monte and Honda. Industrial growth is expected to continue in the future due to the availability of industrially zoned land, the relative affordability compared to the Bay Area, and the region's good transportation networks.

The San Joaquin Partnership was established in 1989 to coordinate the creation of jobs within the county and to foster cooperation rather than competition among the cities of San Joaquin County. The participating governments have made a coordinated effort to market San Joaquin County to new businesses. Since then the larger growth areas of Stockton and Tracy have established their own economic development departments to bring new business to the region.

The Stockton area has become a viable employment center, with several major office and distribution centers located in the area. These include Kelloggs, Dollar Tree, Farmington Fresh, Dorfman Pacific, ACI Distribution, Duraflame, Pac-West Telecommunications, Cost Plus and Marriott International Reservation Center. High-technology firms in Stockton include Applied Aerospace Company, Sigma Circuits and Bay Area Circuits. Several manufacturing companies have also chosen Stockton for their operations.

According to the California Employment Development Department, the largest private employers in San Joaquin County include Cottage Bakery, Dameron Hospital, Del Monte Corp., General Mills Inc., Kenyon Plastering, Lodi Memorial Hospital, Morada Produce Company, OG Packing Co., Pacific Coast Producers, San Joaquin General Hospital, St. Joseph's Medical Center and University of the Pacific.

Per Capita Income

Per capita income represents a broad statistical measure of well-being or standard of living in a community. Simplified, per capita income equates to the total personal income divided by total population. It represents the amount each person would earn if income were distributed evenly among the population. In the year 2008 (most recent data available from the U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis), San Joaquin County's per capita income was about $31,500, which was lower than the state of California's per capita income of about $43,900.

Recreation & Community Facilities

San Joaquin County offers a variety of recreational activities. To the west, the San Joaquin River enters the maze of waterways and islands known as the Delta with approximately 1,000 miles of waterways, where boating and fishing activities are popular. The upper forks of the Stanislaus River offer some of the best whitewater rafting in the country. Regional parks are located throughout the valley in or near the larger cities. There are more than a dozen golf courses in the region, as well as numerous public tennis facilities, health clubs and sports fields. Stockton is home to a minor league baseball team, a symphony, ballet and opera, and hosts the nationally-recognized Asparagus Festival annually. In 2006 a new minor league hockey team, the Stockton Thunder, took up residence in the County Seat as well.

There are over 120,000 students in grades K-12 in the 17 school districts within San Joaquin County. The county has 115 elementary schools, 15 middle and 15 high schools, plus 8 continuation high schools. Both private and public schools meet higher education needs. The two-year San Joaquin Delta College in Stockton enrolls over 17,000 students, and the four-year University of the Pacific, also located in Stockton, has over 4,000. California State University Stanislaus-Stockton is enjoying rising enrollment and now offers an alternative to prospective college students in the county. Local private colleges include Humphreys College and School of Law, National University, Heald Business College, ITT Technical Institute, St. Mary's College of California and University of Phoenix.

In terms of health care services, the county provides eight hospitals and dozens of skilled nursing facilities and convalescent hospitals.

Conclusion

San Joaquin County has a central location in the state of California and offers a good network of highway, water and rail transportation systems. Over the past decade the county has experienced strong population growth, largely due to the proximity to the San Francisco Bay Area and the relative affordability of housing compared to the Bay Area and other parts of California. Like most of the state and nation, the county has recently experiencing real estate market declines and high unemployment. However, the long-term outlook is for relative stability and economic growth beyond the current downturn.

NEIGHBORHOOD OVERVIEW

Introduction

This section of the report provides an analysis of the observable data that indicate patterns of growth, structure and/or change that may enhance or detract from property values. For the purpose of this analysis, a neighborhood is defined as “a group of complementary land uses; a congruous grouping of inhabitants, buildings, or business enterprises.”³

Neighborhood Boundaries

The boundaries of a neighborhood identify the physical area that influences the value of the subject properties. These boundaries may coincide with observable changes in prevailing land use or occupant characteristics. Physical features such as the type of development, street patterns, terrain, vegetation and parcel size tend to identify neighborhoods. Roadways, waterways and changing elevations can also create neighborhood boundaries.

The subject properties are located within the city of Stockton, just west of the Downtown area. The neighborhood boundaries can generally be described as the Calaveras River to the north, San Joaquin River to the west, Stockton Deep Water Channel to the south and Pacific Avenue to the east.

³ The Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 5th ed. (Chicago: Appraisal Institute, 2010), 160.

Demographics

According to demographic data published by Site To Do Business, the population of the subjects' neighborhood, which is approximated in the map below was estimated at 23,678 persons in 2010, with a projected decrease to 23,531 by 2015.

The median age is 34.4 years and the average household size is 2.7 persons. There are an estimated 8,749 housing units within this study area, with 58.6% owner-occupied and 41.4% renter occupied. The median household income in this area is $43,911, which is just above the California median per capita income of $42,548 (2009). According to DataQuick, the median sales price for homes in Stockton as of January 2011 was $125,000, up 3.31% from January 2010 ($121,000).

Transportation

The subject neighborhood is located just west of Downtown Stockton, and straddles Interstate 5, with immediate access from Country Club Boulevard, Monte Diablo Avenue and Pershing Avenue. State Highway 4 is located just south of the neighborhood and links Interstate 5 with U.S. Highway 99 to the east. Interstate 5 is a major north-south freeway that travels to Sacramento, Redding and Yreka to the north, before continuing on into Oregon, Washington and eventually Canada. To the south, Interstate 5 provides access to the metropolitan areas of Los Angeles and San Diego, before terminating at the Mexico border. State Highway 99 generally parallels Interstate 5, providing access to Sacramento to the north, and Modesto, Merced, Turlock, Fresno and Bakersfield to the south, before merging with Interstate 5 at the Grapevine. Major neighborhood thoroughfares include Country Club Boulevard and Pershing Avenue. These roads range from two- to four-lane roads that are generally in average condition.

Land Uses

Land uses within the subjects' surrounding area include single- and multifamily residential, retail, office, service/light industrial and community uses. Adjacent uses include a mix of similar land uses. The next table summarizes some of the land use characteristics of the subject neighborhood.

Neighborhood Life Cycle Stage	Stability
Real Estate Cycle	Recession
Land Uses	Mixed
Age Range of R/E Improvements	10 - 50 years
General Quality & Condition of Improvements	Average to Good
Percentage Developed (approximate)	80% - 90%
Infrastructure / Land Planning	Average

Prominent land uses in the subject neighborhood include the Stockton Golf and Country Club and the Stockton Deep Water Channel. Two prominent public parks in the neighborhood include Louis Park and boat launch and Victory Park. Immediately east of the subject neighborhood is University of the Pacific (UOP) and San Joaquin Delta College, just north of UOP. Downtown Stockton is also located just east of the subject neighborhood and has undergone revitalization and rehabilitation of mature commercial and residential properties over the past several years. Specifically, the city of Stockton has significantly increased the amount of new retail development along the Stockton Deep Water Channel and has aggressively pursued renovation of many existing historical buildings. Further, the City of Stockton Community Development Department has been revising ordinances and permit procedures to better facilitate redevelopment of the Downtown market area.

Retail, office and service commercial development is situated along major neighborhood thoroughfares and most buildings represent older construction.

New residential development is generally located in northern Stockton, with several master planned communities in the area. Builders in these developments are targeting the middle-income homebuyers, with new homes ranging from 1,200 to 3,500 square feet. It is noted Stockton has been particularly hard hit by the housing downturn. As such, home values have declined considerably over the past four years, with inventory high and absorption very slow. It is anticipated the housing market will take several years to fully recover.

Submarket Analysis

The subject properties are located within the city of Stockton, which represents an urban area of the Central Valley that has been experiencing continued contraction in residential and commercial values following several years of robust development between 2000 and 2005. Due to current economic conditions, the Stockton market area has been hit particularly hard.

The housing market slowdown that began in late 2005 is impacting the commercial sector. Brokers are reporting declines in asking rates for office space since mid-2007 in the area, and concessions have increased. Vacancy rates are rising, and properties are taking longer to lease-up than in previous quarters. Fewer tenants are willing to relocate to the area, and many tenants are currently vacating space from leases signed during the expansionary periods. This is especially true with firms doing business in residential real estate, such as title companies, mortgage brokers, and sales brokerage companies, who have been closing numerous offices throughout the region during the decline. Business owners are in “hunker down” mode, and lack confidence in the current business environment to expand their businesses or take on additional debt. The market has slowed as owner-users are having difficulty obtaining financing with stricter underwriting requirements.

Future demand for commercial space is expected to be limited as well. While annual population growth has averaged over 1% year-over-year in the city of Stockton since 2003, population increased just 0.7% from 2008 to 2009. Job growth is negative, and unemployment spiked in 2009 to nearly 16% after averaging 8.1% and 10.4% in 2007 and 2008, respectively. In 2010, the unemployment rate in the region exceeded 16%. The limited population growth and increasing unemployment figures are both factors that play an integral role in the future demand for commercial space.

The following broker survey provides further insight regarding the state of the commercial land market in the area.

- John Frisch – Cornish & Carey: Deals are still happening in the market, but most represent relatively small transactions. Some brokers who used to focus on a few large deals each year are now working on smaller deals and less prestigious clients.
- Ed Benoit – TRI Commercial: Land sales have gone silent over the past 12 to 18 months for commercial parcels. There is no market for land in the current market except for users and bottom feeding investors willing to hold the land for a number of years. It would take deep discounts from historical pricing to get an investor interested.
- Bill Coyle – Colliers International: There are no users in the market today. Retailers are not making deals as they have historically, and many retailers are closing stores throughout the region. Vacant parcels would have to be purchased by speculators who would land-bank properties for better times. We are five years out from seeing recovery in activity and reaching a point that retailers will want to grow again.

- Nick Audino – CB Richard Ellis: Demand for land is very limited in the current market. One of the biggest hurdles in closing deals is the inability of prospective purchasers to obtain necessary financing. Smaller properties are faring better, but demand remains weak.

Overall, the subject’s Stockton submarket is expected to be a viable commercial market over the long term. The market for various types of commercial and residential real estate has been contracting, and increasing vacancy numbers and declining demand suggesting the submarket may currently be overbuilt. New construction on vacant sites is not considered feasible at this time, which is substantiated by the fact that very few projects are proposed in the current market.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the subject neighborhood is an established area. The expansionary trend during the early part of the decade has subsided due to the economic recession fueled by housing and the credit market downturns. The overall condition and quality of the neighborhood is rated as average. The composition of residential elements and commercial related support facilities generally provides stable conditions for the neighborhood. The neighborhood balance of uses and current activity indicate long-term growth and future property appreciation. In the short-term, however, market trends are projected to be contracting through at least the next 12 months.

PROPERTY IDENTIFICATION AND LEGAL DATA

Location

The San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area is located in the city of Stockton and San Joaquin County, and is generally bounded by the Calaveras River to the north, San Joaquin River to the west, the Stockton Deep Water Channel to the south and Pacific Avenue to the east.

Assessor's Parcel Number(s)

A list of Assessor's parcel numbers is presented in the List of Benefitting Parcels (provided by Capitol Public Finance Group, LLC) in the Addenda of this report.

Owner of Record

Title to Assessor's parcels situated within the Benefit Area of San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project is vested with numerous ownership entities, which are listed, by Assessor's parcel number, in the List of Benefitting Parcels in the Addenda to this report.

Property Taxes

The property tax system in California was amended in 1978 by Article XIII to the State Constitution, commonly referred to as Proposition 13. It provides for a limitation on property taxes and for a procedure to establish the current taxable value of real property by reference to a base year value, which is then modified annually to reflect inflation (if any). Annual increases cannot exceed 2% per year.

The base year was set at 1975-76 or any year thereafter in which the property is substantially improved or changes ownership. When either of these two conditions occurs, the property is to be re-appraised at market value, which becomes the new base year assessed value. Proposition 13 also limits the maximum tax rate to 1% of the value of the property, exclusive of bonds and supplemental assessments. Bonded indebtedness approved prior to 1978, and any bonds subsequently approved by a two-thirds vote of the district in which the property is located, can be added to the 1% tax rate.

Please refer to the List of Benefitting Parcels (provided by Capitol PFG) in the Addenda of this report for tax information per Assessor's Parcel.

Conditions of Title/Easements

Current preliminary title reports were not provided for use in this appraisal. It is assumed there are no adverse easements, encroachments or other conditions that negatively impact Assessor's parcels situated within the Benefit Area of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. Please obtain a current preliminary title report for additional details. The client is advised to obtain preliminary title reports to determine any possible conditions of title affecting properties within the boundaries of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area. The appraiser accepts no responsibility for matters pertaining to title.

Flood Zone

The proposed San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project will remove a portion of the Area of Reclamation Districts 1614 and 828 from the 100-Year Flood Plain. Certification of the improvements and removal of the property from a FEMA Special Flood Hazard Area is dependent upon the outcome of a proposed Assessment District and the ability to adequately fund needed maintenance and operations.

Earthquake Zone

According to the Seismic Safety Commission, the subject properties are located within Zone 3, which is considered to be the lowest risk zone in California. There are only two zones in California: Zone 4, which is assigned to areas near major faults; and Zone 3, which is assigned to all other areas of more moderate seismic activity. In addition, the subject is not located in a Fault-Rupture Hazard Zone (formerly referred to as an Alquist-Priolo Special Study Zone), as defined by Special Publication 42 (revised January 1994) of the California Department of Conservation, Division of Mines and Geology.

Zoning

The San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area contains various land use codes and designations, including vacant and improved single-family residential, multifamily residential, commercial, industrial and public facilities, as well as recreational land uses, including golf course and marina. These land use codes, which are generally consistent with the zoning ordinances, as provided by Capitol PFG are identified on the following page.

SITE DESCRIPTION

San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Boundary and Sphere Of Influence

Map prepared by Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck

The County of San Joaquin land use codes encumber the Assessor's parcels situated within the boundaries of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area presented above. The Smith Canal Project comprises 8,071 Assessor's parcels. The land within the District is substantially devoted to residential uses, with supporting commercial, industrial and public facilities, as well as recreational land uses, including a golf course and marina, and is generally bounded by the Calaveras River to the north, San Joaquin River to the west, Stockton Deep Water Channel to the south and Pacific Avenue to the east.

Land Area:	The Smith Canal Project comprises 8,071 Assessor's parcels encompassing approximately 2,064 acres of land determined to be within the Area of Benefit of the proposed Smith Canal Project.
Topography:	Generally level
Shape:	Irregular
Drainage:	Parcels with offsite improvements in place are assumed to have adequate drainage.
Frontage/Visibility/Access:	It appears most, if not all, of the subject parcels have accessibility from public roads.

Utilities:	Improved residential, commercial and industrial parcels have access to public utilities, including electricity, natural gas, water, sewer and telephone service; unimproved parcels may not have public utilities available.
Soil / Environmental Conditions:	No soil or environmental reports were provided for this appraisal. It is assumed there are no hazardous soils or environmental conditions that would inhibit any allowable uses of the subject properties. The opinion(s) of value in this appraisal are based on the assumption there is no material on or in the properties that would cause a loss in value. The appraiser accepts no responsibility for any such conditions.
Off-Site Improvements:	Off-site improvements, where installed, may consist of asphalt-paved streets, concrete curbs, gutters and sidewalks; though, some areas of the Smith Canal Project have minimal offsite improvements in average condition.
Conclusion:	Properties within the Smith Canal Project are generally functional in terms of their size, topography, shape and overall location. There appear to be no known unusual or restrictive physical limitations to the properties as a whole.

HIGHEST AND BEST USE ANALYSIS

The term “highest and best use,” as used in this report, is defined as follows:

The reasonably probable and legal use of vacant land or an improved property that is physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible, and that results in the highest value. The four criteria the highest and best use must meet are legal permissibility, physical possibility, financial feasibility, and maximum productivity. Alternatively, the probable use of land or improved property – specific with respect to the user and timing of the use – that is adequately supported and results in the highest present value.⁴

Two analyses are typically required for highest and best use. The first analysis is highest and best use of the land as though vacant. The second analysis is the highest and best use of the property as improved, which is not applicable to the subject properties, which are being analyzed as vacant land. Definitions of these terms are provided in the Glossary of Terms in the Addenda to this report.

Highest and Best Use as though Vacant

In accordance with the definition of highest and best use, it is appropriate to analyze the subject property as though vacant as it relates to legal permissibility, physical possibility, financial feasibility and maximum productivity.

Legal factors influencing the highest and best use of a property are primarily government regulations, such as zoning and building codes. As discussed in the Property Identification and Legal Data section of this report, the subject properties contain varying land use designations, including commercial, industrial, residential and public use. Public use land, which includes County Land Use Codes 590, 612, 660, 811, 850, 903, 910, 916, 920, 925, 937, 940, 943 and 944, are analyzed based on the highest and best economic use; often determined based on surrounding, compatible land uses.

Physical characteristics of a site that affect its possible use(s) include, but are not limited to, location, street frontage, visibility, access, size, shape, topography, availability of utilities, off-site improvements, easements and soil and subsoil conditions. Location considerations include the compatibility and position of the subject properties with respect to surrounding uses. Parcels contain frontage and visibility along local and subdivision roadways, and all the subject properties are proximate to Interstate 5. I know of no reason why the properties would not support any legal development. The legally permissible uses of the subject properties are assumed to be physically possible. The determination of financial feasibility is dependent primarily upon supply and demand influences for the subjects’ various land use designations. The subject properties are located in an area that has experienced modest growth in the past ten years, as the area is one of the city’s mature residential neighborhoods, with limited, supporting commercial development. In recent years, the residential sector has been in a period of contraction and significant decline throughout San Joaquin County and the city of Stockton. Most real estate professionals foresee price stabilization in 2012 at a minimum and, as prices approach stabilization, builders will look to acquire fewer residential lots (to mitigate risk) with adequate profit expectations. Most active homebuilders and investors in the market are only looking for finished lots in primary markets, with less interest in secondary and tertiary submarkets. Thus, it is suggested single-family residential development is not currently financially feasible under the highest and best use – as though vacant analysis – and it is considered best to hold improved and unimproved lots until the market improves. This is also the case for multifamily residential development. As evidenced by recent apartment sales in the Stockton market area, existing multifamily residential projects are selling for less than replacement cost, demonstrating that multifamily residential development is not financially feasible at this time and the highest and best use is to hold for future development.

While industrial development is legally permissible and physically possible, the significant and ongoing decline in market conditions (please refer to the market overviews presented earlier in this report) limits the feasibility of new construction. It is our opinion the highest and best use as though vacant would be to hold for future industrial development, unless in a build-to-suit scenario. The timing of future development would depend on improvement in market conditions as it relates to the expected absorption timeline for the lease-up of new industrial space, as well as market rent levels.

Consistent with the conclusion of highest and best use as vacant for the residential and industrial land component, new commercial construction is not considered to be feasible at this time. Demand is weakening as a result of (1) the anticipation by buyers that prices will continue to decline, (2) challenges associated with obtaining a loan for land acquisition and new construction and (3) contracting macroeconomic conditions in the overall economy. The tight credit market is especially adversely affecting sales since buyers are having difficulty in getting financing. Improved properties are experiencing decreasing rental rates, increasing vacancies and increasing capitalization rates, all of which adversely affect demand. Without adequate demand to support new construction, the conclusion of highest and best use is to hold for future development in accordance with the legally permissible uses. No other use would provide a higher return to the land. Due to the limited demand for commercial land in the Stockton market area, coupled with the wider macroeconomic uncertainty and contracting market conditions, a hold on commercial development may also be warranted.

Legal, physical and market conditions have been analyzed to evaluate the highest and best use of the subject properties. The analysis is presented to evaluate the type of use(s) that will generate the greatest level of future benefits possible to the properties. Considering the current contraction in the housing and commercial markets, the further potential for price declines and the fact there does not appear to be ample demand for significant additions to the existing housing inventory, the maximally productive use, as though vacant, is to hold unimproved and improved lots for future development until such time absorption rates increase and home prices stabilize. Likewise, the contraction in the housing market has negatively impacted the commercial and industrial markets, suggesting it is maximally productive to hold undeveloped land under current market conditions until macroeconomic conditions have improved and demand warrants new construction.

The most probable buyers of properties within the boundaries of the Smith Canal Project benefit Area may be both owner/users and investors, depending on the land use designation.

APPROACHES TO VALUE

The valuation process is a systematic procedure employed to provide the answer to a client's question about the value of real property.⁵ This process involves the investigation, organization and analysis of pertinent market data and other related factors that affect the market value of real estate. The market data is analyzed in terms of any one or all of the three traditional approaches to estimating real estate value. These are the cost, sales comparison, and income capitalization approaches. Each approach to value is briefly discussed and defined as follows:

Cost Approach

The cost approach is based on the premise that no prudent buyer would pay more for a particular property than the cost to acquire a similar site and construct improvements of equivalent desirability and utility. Thus, this approach to value relates directly to the economic principle of substitution, as well as supply and demand. The cost approach is most applicable when valuing properties where the improvements are new or suffer only a minor amount of accrued depreciation, and is especially persuasive when the site value is well supported. The cost approach is also highly relevant when valuing special-purpose or specialty properties and other properties that are not frequently exchanged in the market.

The definition of the cost approach is offered as follows:

A set of procedures through which a value indication is derived for the fee simple interest in a property by estimating the current cost to construct a reproduction of (or replacement for) the existing structure, including an entrepreneurial incentive, deducting depreciation from the total cost, and adding the estimated land value. Adjustments may then be made to the indicated fee simple value of the subject property to reflect the value of the property interest being appraised.⁶

Sales Comparison Approach

The sales comparison approach is based on the premise that the value of a property is directly related to the prices being generated for comparable, competitive properties in the marketplace. Similar to the cost approach, the economic principles of substitution, as well as supply and demand are basic to the sales comparison approach. This approach has broad applicability and is particularly persuasive when there has been an adequate volume of recent, reliable transactions of similar properties that indicate value patterns or trends in the market. When sufficient data are available, this approach is the most direct and systematic approach to value estimation. Typically, the sales comparison approach is most pertinent when valuing land, single-family homes and small, owner-occupied commercial and office properties.

⁵ The Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 4th ed. (Chicago: Appraisal Institute, 2002), 305.

⁶ The Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 47.

The definition of the sales comparison approach is offered as follows:

The process of deriving a value indication for the subject property by comparing market information for similar properties with the property being appraised, identifying appropriate units of comparison, and making qualitative comparisons with or quantitative adjustments to the sale prices (or unit prices, as appropriate) of the comparable properties based on relevant, market-derived elements of comparison.⁷

Income Capitalization Approach

The income capitalization approach is based on the premise that income-producing real estate is typically purchased as an investment. From an investor's point of view, the potential earning power of a property is the critical element affecting value. The concepts of anticipation and change, as they relate to supply and demand issues and substitution, are fundamental to this valuation approach. These concepts are important because the value of income-producing real estate is created by the expectation of benefits (income) to be derived in the future, which is subject to changes in market conditions. Value may be defined as the present worth of the rights to these future benefits. The validity of the income capitalization approach hinges upon the accuracy of which the income expectancy of a property can be measured.

Within the income capitalization approach there are two basic techniques that can be utilized to estimate market value. These techniques of valuation are direct capitalization and yield capitalization.

Direct Capitalization: A method used to convert an estimate of a single year's income expectancy into an indication of value in one direct step, either by dividing the net income estimate by an appropriate capitalization rate or by multiplying the income estimate by an appropriate factor. Direct capitalization employs capitalization rates and multipliers extracted or developed from market data. Only a single year's income is used. Yield and value changes are implied but not identified.⁸

Yield Capitalization: A method used to convert future benefits into present value by 1) discounting each future benefit at an appropriate yield rate, or 2) developing an overall rate that explicitly reflects the investment's income pattern, holding period, value change, and yield rate.⁹

The definition of the income capitalization approach is offered as follows:

A set of procedures through which an appraiser derives a value indication for an income-producing property by converting its anticipated benefits (cash flows and reversion) into property value. This conversion can be accomplished in two ways. One year's income expectancy can be capitalized at a market-derived capitalization rate or at a capitalization rate that reflects a specified income pattern, return on investment, and change in the value of the investment. Alternatively, the annual cash flows for the holding period and the reversion can be discounted at a specified yield rate.¹⁰

APPRAISAL METHODOLOGY

In the valuation of the various land use codes comprising the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area, the sales comparison approach to value will be employed, analyzing several land sales in the subjects' market area and surrounding areas. As was discussed in the Highest and Best Use Analysis section, it is not currently financially feasible to install site improvements to support new construction at this time. For this reason, the subjects' unimproved land use codes will be analyzed using comparable speculative (transitional) land transactions in the region via the sales comparison approach. This valuation method is considered to provide the most realistic estimate of not-less-than market value. Similarly, the diminished demand for multifamily land in the Stockton market area due to the infeasibility of new construction also warrants analysis of multifamily land as transitional land. Public use land, which includes County Land Use Codes 590, 612, 660, 811, 850, 903, 910, 916, 920, 925, 937, 940, 943 and 944, are analyzed based on the highest and best economic use; often determined based on surrounding, compatible land uses. In the case of public use land comprising the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project Benefit Area, the highest and best economic use at this time is transitional land, which will be used in this analysis. The cost and income capitalization approaches are not applicable to the valuation of the land use codes as vacant land. The derivations of market value concluded and presented herein are intended to be not-less-than values.

IMPROVED SINGLE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL LOT VALUATION

(SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY USE CODES 001, 004, 005, 010, 013, 014, 016, 021 AND 022)

In the sales comparison approach, the market value of the improved single-family residential lots (production home) will be estimated by a comparison to similar properties that have sold, are listed for sale or are under contract. The underlying premise of the sales comparison approach is the market value of a property is directly related to the price of comparable, competitive properties in the marketplace.

This approach is based on the economic principle of substitution. According to The Appraisal of Real Estate, 13th Edition, published by the Appraisal Institute, 2008 – “The principle of substitution holds that the value of a property tends to be set by the price that would be paid to acquire a substitute property of similar utility and desirability within a reasonable amount of time. The principle implies that the reliability of the sales comparison approach is diminished if substitute properties are not available in the market.”

In order to assemble comparable land sales, I searched various data sources for leads, then confirmed the raw data obtained with parties directly related to the transactions (primarily brokers, buyers and sellers) and/or public records.

Nine sales of bulk lot transactions in the San Joaquin, Stanislaus and Merced County market area were assembled between July 2009 and July 2010 that are deemed reasonable indicators of market value for the subject properties. Many of the comparable sales in this analysis were acquired with the intention to hold; though, the lots are readily available for home construction, similar to the subject properties with County Use Codes 001, 004, 005, 010, 013, 014, 016, 021 and 022. The table summarizing the comparable sales is followed by detailed sales sheets and a discussion leading to our conclusion of not-less-than value. The sales analyzed are considered the best available for comparison to the subject properties.

Remarks

This subdivision was previously known as Sterling Glen 3 and homes were marketed by JKB Homes. In June 2010, Florsheim Homes purchased the remaining 41 lots in this project and plan to market three floor plans ranging in living area from 1,511 to 2,003 square feet. These lots were under contract for $30,000 per lot with another buyer before falling out of escrow and ultimately selling to Florsheim Homes for approximately $28,500 per lot.

Remarks

This property was originally under contract for $30,000 per lot for all 27 lots, but the sale price was subsequently reduced to $26,000 per lot, overall, prior to the close of escrow. The property consists of 10 finished lots in the Legends North No. 2 subdivision and 17 finished lots in the Legends North No. 4 subdivision. It is noted Legends North No. 2 is in a different school districts than Legends North No. 4 and the fees are slightly different; we have used the average permits and fees for this project. It is noted the lots were marketed based on the premise there were fee credits associated with new home construction on the lots. Further, the selling broker indicated the buyer purchased the lots with this understanding. At the time of sale, the fee credits were estimated at about $16,000 per lot on average and it is estimated the comparable's total permits and fees are about $53,000 per lot, for the purpose of this analysis. It is noted that the purchase price reflects the fact the buyer perceived these fee credits to be available when building permits are ultimately pulled. While the buyer is reportedly still confirming the subject's total permits and fees right now, we will analyze the comparable based on the nature of this transaction, whereby, all parties (buyer, seller, brokers) understood these fee credits to be available at the time of sale.

Seevers • Jordan • Ziegenmeyer

In addition to the fee credits, it is also noted that these lots could potentially receive reimbursements for impact fees related to sewer, water, transportation and storm water drainage fees. However, the City indicated the timeline for distribution of the reimbursements is unknown. These reimbursements are distributed quarterly by the City of Turlock and the funds are generated by impact fees paid from new home construction. In Turlock, the project that pays the permit/fees for a new home does not necessarily receive the reimbursements. Reimbursements are distributed based on a subdivision priority list that was established by the City for all projects owed reimbursements. Thus, if a building permit was pulled for one this comparable's lots, the subdivision with the highest ranking on the priority list would receive the reimbursement. Currently, this comparable is ranked between 5th and 8th on the subdivision priority list for the different impact fee reimbursements. This comparable would only begin to receive reimbursements when the projects with higher priority are fully compensated. Thus, it is possible that these lots could be fully built-out before any reimbursements are distributed. In light of the previous discussion, we will analyze this comparable based on the estimated permits and fees (less fee credits) for new home construction in Turlock.

Conclusion of Improved Lot Value (001, 004, 005, 010, 013 and 014)

The comparable sales reflect a range of data of $10,000 to $30,000 per lot. The most recent sales of bulk lots in the Stockton area reflect pricing towards the low end of the range ($10,000 and $11,500 per lot); though, these lots are located in slightly inferior areas of Stockton. Nonetheless, it demonstrates the weakened demand for buildable lots in the Stockton area. In light of the continued contraction in the real estate market, with particular attention to the declines in the single-family housing market, a concluded value of $15,000 per lot is considered reasonable. Based on the typical density for single-family residential lots in the District of five lots per acre, a not-less-than value of $75,000 per acre is concluded.

Conclusion of Improved Lot Value (016, 021 and 022)

The above land use codes comprise what are considered to be inferior improved lot categories under current market conditions; those lots designated for mobile homes, duplexes and two dwellings per parcel. Based on the data, a conclusion towards the bottom of the range, or $10,000 per lot is considered reasonable. Thus, based on the typical density for single-family residential lots in the District of five lots per acre, a not-less-than value of $50,000 per acre is concluded.

TRANSITIONAL LAND VALUATION

(SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY USE CODES 002, 003, 006, 007, 011, 020, 031, 032, 034, 035, 040, 041, 042, 043, 044, 045, 046, 047, 059, 080, 081, 082, 090, 307, 590, 612, 690, 710, 711, 720, 722, 730, 760, 810, 811, 814, 903, 910, 916, 920, 925, 937, 940, 943 AND 944)

The market value of the above-noted land use codes will be estimated by analyzing sales of transitional land in adjoining Sacramento, San Joaquin and Stanislaus Counties, consistent with the highest and best use analysis, which is to hold for future development.

A survey of recent transactions revealed eight transitional land sales believed to be reasonable indicators of not-less-than market values for the above-mentioned land use codes. The sales cover the period from May 2009 to September 2010 and range in size from 9.94 to 163.5 gross acres. The sales relied upon in this analysis are summarized within the chart below, followed by detailed sale sheets and a discussion that leads to the conclusion of value.

Thus, the sale price attributed to the land is estimated to be $670,000, or $21,089 per acre.

Conclusion – Transitional Land Components

Eight transitional land sales were analyzed in the preceding section for determination of market value for numerous San Joaquin County's land use codes considered to be transitional inasmuch as the highest and best use is to hold for future urban development. In consideration of the sales previously presented, six characteristics—location, entitlements, land area (gross acres), zoning, development timeline and development utility—were considered relative to their impact on market value for the subject properties within the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. Utilizing these factors, and in consideration of appropriate adjustments, a base not-less-than market value towards the low end of the range, or $25,000 per acre of land area, will be applied to San Joaquin County land use codes 002, 003, 006, 007, 011, 020, 031, 032, 034, 035, 040, 041, 042, 043, 044, 045, 046, 047, 059, 080, 081, 082, 090, 307, 590, 612, 690, 710, 711, 720, 722, 730, 760, 810, 811, 814, 903, 910, 916, 920, 925, 937, 940, 943 AND 944, all of which have been analyzed as unimproved (transitional) land parcels.

COMMERCIAL (RETAIL / OFFICE) LAND VALUATION

(COUNTY USE CODES 061, 100, 101, 102, 110, 112, 113, 121, 140, 141, 142, 151, 152, 154, 155, 170, 171, 190, 201, 210, 213, 250, 251, 252, 255, 282, 660, 742 & 891)

In estimating the market value of the abovementioned San Joaquin County land use codes, sales of commercial and office land was researched in the Central Valley market area, including the Counties of Sacramento, San Joaquin, Stanislaus and Merced. After gathering the most comparable data available, the sales comparison approach is employed to arrive at an opinion of not-less-than market value for the above-noted land use codes.

A search revealed six land sales considered reasonable to provide credible estimates of not-less-than market values for the subjects' commercial land use codes. The sales range in size from 0.16 acre to 23.23 acres, and sold between July 2009 and October 2010. A summary tabulation is presented below, followed by detailed sales sheets and a discussion that leads to a conclusion of land value for the commercial County land use codes.

This comparable is located in San Joaquin County, immediately east of the city limits of Stockton and within the Stockton sphere of influence. A hotel and fast food restaurant are located just west of this property with urban services available. The Arch Road Business Park is located 200 feet to the north. The Stockton General Plan designates this property Commercial. The sale involved the buyer putting $80,000 down and assuming the seller's loan, which was due in two years. Additional terms of the loan were not available.

Conclusion – Commercial Land Component

Six land sales were analyzed in the preceding section for determination of not-less-than market value for the subjects' commercial (retail and office) land use codes. There have been few commercial land sales in the Stockton market area, which prompted an expansion of the search parameters to include neighboring Sacramento, Stanislaus and Merced Counties. Based on the indications of the market data, a conclusion of value towards the low end of the range, or $125,000 per acre of land area (approximately $2.85 per square foot), is considered reasonable and will be applied to the subjects' 29 commercial San Joaquin County land use codes: 061, 100, 101, 102, 110, 112, 113, 121, 140, 141, 142, 151, 152, 154, 155, 170, 171, 190, 201, 210, 213, 250, 251, 252, 255, 282, 660, 742 & 891.

In estimating the market value of the abovementioned County land use codes, sales of industrial land in the San Joaquin County market area were researched. After gathering the most comparable data available, the sales comparison approach is employed to arrive at an opinion of market value for the subject parcels.

A search revealed five land sales considered reasonable to provide credible estimates of not-less-than market values for the subjects' industrial land parcels. A summary tabulation is presented below, followed by detailed sales sheets and a discussion that leads to a conclusion of land value for the industrial County land use codes.

Remarks

The buyer plans to construct a warehouse. This party was highly motivated in light of the fact they own the adjoining parcel to the south and were in the process of acquiring the adjoining property to the north at the time of this sale. This buyer had to demolish a home and several outbuildings, which had multiple code violations. The property has water in place, but no available public sewer.

Conclusion – Industrial Land Component

Five land sales were assembled and analyzed for the purpose of determining a not-less-than market value for the subjects’ various County industrial land use codes. Industrial users in the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project area tend to serve the nearby Stockton Port. In light of the contraction in market conditions that has continued to impact land values throughout the Stockton region, a conclusion of value towards the low end of the range, or $100,000 per acre of land area, is considered reasonable and will be applied to the subjects’ industrial County land use codes.

FINAL CONCLUSION OF NOT-LESS-THAN MARKET VALUE BY LAND USE CODE

The purpose and intended use of this appraisal is to provide Capitol PFG with a “base line” or not-less-than market value for each San Joaquin County Land Use code encumbering properties within the Area of Benefit of the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project. The estimates of not-less-than market value, by Land Use Code, will then be used by Capitol PFG and Kjeldsen Sinnock & Neudeck as one component in the determination of an assessment amount, per Assessor’s parcel, within the area benefitting from the San Joaquin Area Flood Control Agency Smith Canal Project.

As a result of the analysis herein, it is my opinion the not-less-than market value of each land use code, in accordance with the assumptions and conditions set forth in the attached document (please refer to pages 8 through 10), as of March 10, 2011, is presented in the chart on the following page.

Readdressing/Reassigning Appraisal Reports

Seevers Jordan Ziegenmeyer adheres to the requirements of the 2008-2009 Edition of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP). This edition is effective January 1, 2008 through December 31, 2009. The following excerpts pertain to readdressing/reassigning appraisal reports:

Advisory Opinion 26, Page A-90:

Once a report has been prepared for a named client(s) and any other identified intended users and for an identified intended use, the appraiser cannot "readdress" (transfer) the report to another party.

Advisory Opinion 27, Page A-92:

Situations often arise in which appraisers who have previously appraised a property are asked by a different party to appraise the same property.... Accepting the assignment from the second potential client is not prohibited by USPAP, assuming any existing confidential information is handled properly.... If there is a new potential client, valuation services performed for that new client would constitute a new assignment and the assignment results would be specific to that new assignment.

Frequently Asked Questions, Page F-36:

It is never permissible to "readdress" a report by simply changing the client's name on a completed report, regardless of whether the first client gave a release. The request from Lender B must be treated as a new assignment.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Unless otherwise noted, the following definitions are from The Dictionary of Real Estate Appraisal, 5th ed. (Chicago: Appraisal Institute, 2010).

Aggregate of Retail Values (ARV): The sum of the separate and distinct market value opinions for each of the units in a condominium, subdivision development, or portfolio of properties, as of the date of valuation. The aggregate of retail values does not represent an opinion of value; it is simply the total of multiple market value conclusions.

As Is Market Value: The estimate of the market value of real property in its current physical condition, use, and zoning as of the appraisal date.

Band of Investment: A technique in which the capitalization rates attributable to components of a capital investment are weighted and combined to derive a weighted-average rate attributable to the total investment.

Bulk (Discounted) Value: The most probable price, in a sale of all parcels within a tract or development project, to a single purchaser or sales to multiple buyers, over a reasonable absorption period discounted to present value, as of a specified date, in cash, or in terms equivalent to cash, for which the property rights should sell after reasonable exposure, in a competitive market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, with buyer and seller each acting prudently, knowledgeably, and for self-interest, and assuming that neither is under stress. (Appraisal Standards For Land-Secured Financing, California Department Advisory Commission, 1994)

Comparative-Unit Method: A method used to derive a cost estimate in terms of dollars per unit of area or volume based on known costs of similar structures that are adjusted for time and physical differences; usually applied to total building area.

Cost Approach: A set of procedures through which a value indication is derived for the fee simple interest in a property by estimating the current cost to construct a reproduction of (or replacement for) the existing structure, including an entrepreneurial incentive, deducting depreciation from the total cost, and adding the estimated land value. Adjustments may then be made to the indicated fee simple value of the subject property to reflect the value of the property interest being appraised.

Depreciation: In appraising, a loss in property value from any cause; the difference between the cost of an improvement on the effective date of the appraisal and the market value of the improvement on the same date.

Direct Capitalization: A method used to convert an estimate of a single year's income expectancy into an indication of value in one direct step, either by dividing the net income estimate by an appropriate capitalization rate or by multiplying the income estimate by an appropriate factor. Direct capitalization employs capitalization rates and multipliers extracted or developed from market data. Only a single year's income is used. Yield and value changes are implied but not identified.

Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Analysis: The procedure in which a discount rate is applied to a set of projected income streams and a reversion. The analyst specifies the quantity, variability, timing, and duration of the income streams and the quantity and timing of the reversion, and discounts each to its present value at a specified yield rate.

Discount Rate: A yield rate used to convert future payments or receipts into present value; usually considered to be a synonym for yield rate.

Disposition Value: The most probable price that a specified interest in real property should bring under the following conditions: 1) consummation of a sale within a future exposure time specified by the client; 2) the property is subjected to market conditions prevailing as of the date of valuation; 3) both the buyer and seller are acting prudently and knowledgeably; 4) the seller is under compulsion to sell; 5) the buyer is typically motivated; 6) both parties are acting in what they consider to be their best interests; 7) an adequate marketing effort will be made during the exposure time specified by the client; 8) payment will be made in cash in U.S. dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; 9) the price represents the normal consideration for the property sold, unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale.

Easement: The right to use another's land for a stated purpose.

Exposure Time: 1) The time a property remains on the market. 2) The estimated length of time the property interest being appraised would have been offered on the market prior to the hypothetical consummation of a sale at market value on the effective date of the appraisal; a retrospective estimate based on an analysis of past events assuming a competitive and open market.

External Obsolescence: An element of depreciation; a diminution in value caused by negative externalities and generally incurable on the part of the owner, landlord, or tenant.

Extraction: A method of estimating land value in which the depreciated cost of the improvements on the improved property is calculated and deducted from the total sale price to arrive at an estimated sale price for the land.

Extraordinary Assumption: An assumption, directly related to a specific assignment, which, if found to be false, could alter the appraiser's opinions or conclusions. Extraordinary assumptions presume as fact otherwise uncertain information about physical, legal, or economic characteristics of the subject property; or about conditions external to the property such as market conditions or trends; or about the integrity of data used in an analysis.

Fair Market Value: The highest price on the date of valuation that would be agreed to by a seller, being willing to sell but under no particular or urgent necessity for so doing, nor obliged to sell, and a buyer, being ready, willing, and able to buy but under no particular necessity for so doing, each dealing with the other with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available. (California Code of Civil Procedure, Section 1263.320(a))

Fee Simple Estate: Absolute ownership unencumbered by any other interest or estate, subject only to the limitations imposed by the governmental powers of taxation, eminent domain, police power, and escheat.

Floor Area Ratio (FAR): The relationship between the above-ground floor area of a building, as described by the building code, and the area of the plot on which it stands; in planning and zoning, often expressed as a decimal, e.g., a ratio of 2.0 indicates that the permissible floor area of a building is twice the total land area.

Functional Obsolescence (Incurable): An element of depreciation; a defect caused by a deficiency or superadequacy in the structure, materials, or design that cannot be practically or economically corrected.

Highest and Best Use: The reasonably probable and legal use of vacant land or an improved property that is physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible, and that results in the highest value. The four criteria the highest and best use must meet are legal permissibility, physical possibility, financial feasibility, and maximum productivity. Alternatively, the probable use of land or improved property – specific with respect to the user and timing of the use – that is adequately supported and results in the highest present value.

Highest and Best Use of Property as Improved: The use that should be made of a property as it exists. An existing improvement should be renovated or retained as is so long as it continues to contribute to the total market value of the property, or until the return from a new improvement would more than offset the cost of demolishing the existing building and constructing a new one.

Highest and Best Use of Land or a Site as though Vacant: Among all reasonable, alternative uses, the use that yields the highest present land value, after payments are made for labor, capital, and coordination. The use of a property based on the assumption that the parcel of land is vacant or can be made vacant by demolishing any improvements.

Hypothetical Condition: That which is contrary to what exists but is supposed for the purpose of analysis. Hypothetical conditions assume conditions contrary to known facts about physical, legal, or economic characteristics of the subject property; or about conditions external to the property, such as market conditions or trends; or about the integrity of data used in an analysis.

Income Capitalization Approach: A set of procedures through which an appraiser derives a value indication for an income-producing property by converting its anticipated benefits (cash flows and reversion) into property value. This conversion can be accomplished in two ways. One year's income expectancy can be capitalized at a market-derived capitalization rate or at a capitalization rate that reflects a specified income pattern, return on investment, and change in the value of the investment. Alternatively, the annual cash flows for the holding period and the reversion can be discounted at a specified yield rate.

Leased Fee Interest: A freehold (ownership interest) where the possessory interest has been granted to another party by creation of a contractual landlord-tenant relationship.

Leasehold Interest: The tenant's possessory interest created by a lease. (Negative leasehold: A lease situation in which the market rent is less than the contract rent. Positive leasehold: A lease situation in which the market rent is greater than the contract rent.)

Liquidation Value: See Disposition Value.

Market Value: The most probable price that a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller each acting prudently and knowledgeably, and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus. Implicit in this definition is the consummation of a sale as of a specified date and the passing of title from seller to buyer under conditions whereby: buyer and seller are typically motivated; both parties are well informed or well advised, and acting in what they consider their best interests; a reasonable time is allowed for exposure in the open market; payment is made in terms of cash in U.S. dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; and the price represents the normal consideration for the property sold unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale. (Code of Federal Regulations, Title 12, Part 34, Section 34.42)

Marketing Time: An opinion of the amount of time it might take to sell a real or personal property interest at the concluded market value level during the period immediately after the effective date of an appraisal. Marketing time differs from exposure time, which is always presumed to precede the effective date of an appraisal.

Neighborhood: A group of complementary land uses; a congruous grouping of inhabitants, buildings, or business enterprises.

Obsolescence: One cause of depreciation; an impairment of desirability and usefulness caused by new inventions, changes in design, improved processes for production, or external factors that make a property less desirable and valuable for a continued use; may be either functional or external.

Prospective Opinion of Value: A value opinion effective as of a specified future date. The term does not define a type of value. Instead, it identifies a value opinion as being effective at some specific future date. An opinion of value as of a prospective date is frequently sought in connection with projects that are proposed, under construction, or under conversion to a new use, or those that have not yet achieved sellout or a stabilized level of long-term occupancy.

Quantity Survey Method: A cost-estimating method in which the quantity and quality of all materials used and all categories of labor required are estimated and unit cost figures are applied to arrive at a total cost estimate for labor and materials.

Replacement Cost: The estimated cost to construct, at current prices as of the effective appraisal date, a substitute for the building being appraised, using modern materials and current standards, design, and layout.

Reproduction Cost: The estimated cost to construct, at current prices as of the effective date of the appraisal, an exact duplicate or replica of the building being appraised, using the same materials, construction standards, design, layout, and quality of workmanship and embodying all the deficiencies, superadequacies, and obsolescence of the subject building.

Sales Comparison Approach: The process of deriving a value indication for the subject property by comparing market information for similar properties with the property being appraised, identifying appropriate units of comparison, and making qualitative comparisons with or quantitative adjustments to the sale prices (or unit prices, as appropriate) of the comparable properties based on relevant, market-derived elements of comparison.

Site Coverage Ratio: The gross area of the building footprint divided by the site area.

Stabilized Occupancy: An expression of the expected occupancy of a property in its particular market considering current and forecasted supply and demand, assuming it is priced at market rent.

Subdivision Development Method: A method of estimating land value when subdivision development is the highest and best use of the parcel of land being appraised. When all direct and indirect costs and entrepreneurial incentive are deducted from an estimate of the anticipated gross sales price of the finished lots (or residences), the resultant net sales proceeds are then discounted to present value at a market-derived rate over the development and absorption period to indicate the value of the land.

Superadequacy: An excess in the capacity or quality of a structure or structural component; determined by market standards.

Unit-In-Place Method: A cost-estimating method in which total building cost is estimated by adding together the unit costs for the various building components as installed; also called the segregated cost method.

Yield Capitalization: A method used to convert future benefits into present value by 1) discounting each future benefit at an appropriate yield rate, or 2) developing an overall rate that explicitly reflects the investment's income pattern, holding period, value change, and yield rate.

Yield Rate: A rate of return on capital, usually expressed as a compound annual percentage rate. A yield rate considers all expected property benefits, including the proceeds from sale at the termination of the investment.

Sample of Appraisal Experience

County of San Joaquin Community Facilities District
No. 2009-2 (Vernalis Interchange)
Vernalis, San Joaquin County, California

This assignment involved the appraisal of approximately 3,457.41 gross acres of land comprising 40 separate Assessor's parcels devoted to (or intended for) aggregate mining operations by six independent mining operators, including Telchert, West Coast Aggregates, Granite, Knife River, DeSilva Gates and Cemex. The summary appraisal was completed for bond financing purposes, with the proceeds intended to finance the construction of a new interchange on State Route 132 at Bird Road, which is intended to enhance traffic operation safety at this intersection. This report was prepared for the County of San Joaquin.

HUD 223(f) Apartment Portfolio
San Francisco, San Francisco County, California

This appraisal assignment involved the appraisal of nine multifamily properties in San Francisco containing between seven and 50 units, as well as mixed-use properties including ground floor retail tenants. The self-contained appraisals were completed in compliance with Federal regulatory requirements and guidelines that may apply as well as the requirements of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) MAP Program for a 223(f) Refinance. This report was prepared for Column Guaranteed, LLC.

Reclamation District No. 17 – Mossdale Tract
(portion)
County of San Joaquin, California

The appraised properties represented a portion of Reclamation District No. 17 identified as vacant residential, vacant commercial and vacant industrial land, and excluded those properties within the boundaries of the District zoned as agricultural and public use, and those properties with an assessed improvement value on the most recent property tax roll. Reclamation District No. 17 (Mossdale Tract) is located in San Joaquin County and contains approximately 16,107.58 acres of land comprising approximately 13,335 assessor's parcels. This report was prepared for Reclamation District No. 17.

The Parkway & Quinto Ranch
Santa Nella, Merced County, California

This appraisal involved the valuation of a 1,464-lot single-family residential master planned community that included residential, commercial and public use components, and a non-contingent 1,644-acre ranch subject to a conservation easement. This report was prepared for IndyMac Bank.

Bickford Ranch Community Facilities District No.
2003-1
Placer County, California

The hypothetical market valuation of a proposed master planned community that will include 847.2 acres of land designated for 1,783 residential lots and a 9.7-acre commercial component. The appraisal will be used for bond underwriting purposes and was prepared for the County of Placer.

El Dorado Hills Community Facilities District No.
1992-1 (portion)
El Dorado County, California

This assignment involved the hypothetical cumulative, or aggregate, valuation of a sizeable portion of the existing Serrano master planned community. The appraisal included 1,597 single-family residential lots, 382 custom single-family residential lots, 33.05 acres of commercial land and 344 existing single-family residences. The appraisal will be used for bond underwriting purposes and was prepared for the County of El Dorado.

Diablo Grande Community Facilities District No. 1
(Series 2002)
Stanislaus County, California

The appraisal involved the valuation of a partially improved resort and master planned community offering 1,410 residential lots, multifamily land, commercial land, a hotel site, vineyards and two 18-hole championship golf courses. The appraisal was used for bond underwriting purposes and was prepared for Western Hills Water District.

Plumas Lake Community Facilities District No.
2002-1
Yuba County, California

This appraisal included the valuation of a portion of the proposed, and partially improved, Plumas Lake Specific Plan area, and comprised 3,314 detached single-family residential lots. The appraisal was used for bond underwriting purposes and was prepared for the Olivehurst Public Utility District.
